Sixth Boston Bank Taken Over by Commissioner Within Two Months

Says Action Due to Steady Withdrawals of Deposits and Doubtful Loans

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—When Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen took over the affairs of the Fidelity Trust company, here today, his action marked the closing of the sixth banking institution in this city within two months. The others were the Hanover Trust company, of which Charles F. Fernald, the financial wizard, was a director, and largest individual depositor; and the Eastern Trust company.

LOWELL SOLDIER'S BODY BACK FROM FRANCE

According to a telegram received by relatives this morning the body of Sgt. George W. Brick, formerly a member of the old Sixth regiment, but in the world war a member of the Fourth Pioneer, a unit which was recruited from volunteers in the South and trained at Camp Wadsworth, South Carolina, arrived in Hoboken, N. J., last evening. Sgt. Brick became ill on the voyage overseas with his unit and died in St. Nazaire, France, a few days after the troops were landed. The officers of the American Legion were also notified this morning and they immediately set about to make arrangements for military funeral services and honors to be carried out when the body arrives in this city, possibly on Thursday. Sgt. George Brick was the son of Mrs. Winifred Brick who now lives at 119 Pleasant street, this city. He leaves, besides his mother, two brothers, Leo and Martin, and four sisters, Mary M. Theresa, Winifred and Christina.

13-YEAR-OLD GENIUS AT HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 28.—Harvard college gained a genius at studies and a potential batsman for its baseball nine when, Frederick Santee of Wapwallopen, Pa., 13 years of age, registered as a member of the freshman class today. The boy has mastered five languages, works problems in calculus with facility and has advanced far beyond his years in other branches of academic study. But his keenest delight, he told his classmates, is to get out and play ball, and those who knew him at Central high school, Philadelphia, said young Santee was a budding Babe Ruth, whose heavy hitting had won more than one game for him last.

THE DOLLAR WILL COME BACK

A two-bit piece once paid the bill. And got a fellow through the gate. I recall, a long way back. Hot peanuts cost a jill a sack. And how we loved the sandwich. A red-hot cost a nickel then. After the game—excuse the lard—we drank a glass of jittery beer. Those dear old days, beyond recall. When one round buck would do it all.—Chicago Tribune.

There is more sound truth in the above lines, than sound poetry. If John Greenleaf Whittier wrote nearer the heart of man, this Chicago poet writes nearer and next to the pocketbook. RECEPTION TO SULLIVAN

Lowell Man Who Attempted English Channel Swim Due Home Tomorrow

Henry F. Sullivan, Lowell's well known swimmer, who attempted to swim the English channel this summer and came within a few miles of his goal on several attempts, will return to Lowell tomorrow evening and will be formally received by the city government and later fêted by members of the C.Y.M.L., under whose colors he swam.

Mr. Sullivan arrived in New York from England yesterday morning and is expected to reach the Middlesex station at 7.15 tomorrow evening. Here he will be met by his brother members of the C.Y.M.L. and other admirers who will parade to city hall.

At the municipal building he will be formally welcomed home by Mayor Perry D. Thompson and other members of the city government in the adjutant chamber.

From city hall the paraders will continue to the C.Y.M.L. hall in Suffolk street, where a banquet will be held and a suitable program of speech-making and entertainment carried out in honor of the organization's distinguished member.

STUBBORN FIRE IN HOWE STREET HOUSE

Fire believed to have been started by rats and matches, caused damage to the extent of several hundred dollars to the dwelling house numbered 10 Howe street and owned by the children of Mrs. Mary O'Donnell of the city. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, an alarm was sent in from box 8. The firemen responded quickly, but when they reached the premises the blaze had worked its way to the roof and was threatening the neighboring house. Several lines of hose were laid and tons of water were poured on the roof. It was only after considerable work and not before the entire roof of the ill-luck had been burned that the firemen succeeded in putting out the fire.

The downstairs tenement, where the fire started is occupied by Mrs. Ann O'Toole, who at the time of the fire was at her work in a local mill. The upper flat is occupied by Thomas Brady and his son, who were also out. Considerable damage was caused to the furniture of both flats by water. Mrs. O'Donnell and her children occupy the front part of the house and their household goods were not damaged. The damage to the house, Mrs. O'Donnell stated, is covered by insurance.

London Paper Calls on Government to Halt "Semi-Official Lynch Law"

Murders and Raids in Irish Towns by Black and Tans Cause Anxiety

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Serious anxiety over the recurrence of the "Black and Tan" reprisals in Ireland is reflected by English newspapers, which sharply call for the government to halt what is described by the London Times as "semi-official lynch law." Earlier occurrences in Ireland passed without much notice here, but recent raids, especially those on Balbriggan and Trim, and the lukewarm criticism of the "Black and Tan" police forces by Gen. continued to last page

MACSWINEY MORE REFRESHED TODAY

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, passed a better night last night and was a little more refreshed this morning, said a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination league. He was very weak and exhausted, however, and in some pain, the bulletin declared. This was the 41th day of his hunger strike.

In his report to the home office, the physician at Brixton prison said: "He is slightly thinner, but otherwise there is no marked change from yesterday. The prisoner is unquestionably growing weaker daily."

FIRES IN TWO PLANTS SEIZED BY WORKERS

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Two serious fires in manufacturing plants which had been occupied by the workers are reported in despatches to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Rome.

One was in the Oulano munitions factory in Naples. The belief exists, says the message, that this fire was the work of extremists, who refused to evacuate the plants. The red flag floated over the flames, but eventually the blaze was conquered and the color was substituted.

The other fire in a Turin lace factory, caused a loss of two million lire. It occurred, the advices state, in a factory which the workers were to have evacuated on the day the blaze broke out.

Milk produced in the United States annually amounts to $7,905,000,000 pounds.

SHOOTS GIRL AND HER MOTHER

Man Captured After Chase Says He Intended to Kill Himself Also

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—Mrs. Corinne Crauton, 24 years of age, and Mrs. Amelia Liliquais, her mother, were shot and possibly seriously wounded today by Jacob Finkler, who, when captured after a chase by police, said he was jealous of the younger woman and had intended to kill himself also. Finkler intercepted the woman at a street corner in the West End, near the Massachusetts General Hospital, firing without warning. The victims were taken to the hospital, where it was said each had a slight chance for recovery.

HIGH PRICES AT END

Statistics Presented at Hearing on Demands for Increase in Wages

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Statistics tending to show that high prices have come to an end, and that a definite downward trend has set in, has been presented by Swift & Co., at a hearing on demands of stockyard employees for higher wages. L. H. D. Weld, head of the commercial research department of the packing company, said an increase in wages would keep prices up.

DELANEY OPPOSES SCHOOL CLOSING

When queried relative to the closing of the Agawam school today, Chairman Delaney of the school board said: "I am not quite familiar with the facts in connection with the closing of the school, except that it is in pursuance of a policy of centralization adopted by Supt. Molloy and under which the Moody street, Billings street and Agawam street primaries together with the kindergarten connected have been closed."

"For my part I do not favor the policy and I do not know that a majority of the board favors it as the board has not authorized the closing of the schools."

"In the case of the Agawam school, I feel that the distance to Carter street to which the classes are transferred, is too far for young children to walk in the cold weather. The only saving," said Mr. Delaney, "is the heating of the primary buildings and the junior service."

"Of course, it might cost less to double up on the schools throughout the city, but I don't believe it would serve the cause of education or bring better results. The changes made will require the children in some districts to walk so far, that in cold weather, their parents may prefer to keep them at home."

Lack of pupils is the reason given by the superintendent for the closing. It is understood that the number of pupils attending the primaries has been from 50 upwards.

Maharg Says Cicotte Told Him He Could Arrange "Throwing" of Game

Players Double Crossed—Say Attell Was "Fixer"—Cicotte Makes Denial

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—Billy Maharg, whose story revealing what he claimed to be the plan for "throwing" last year's world's series, was published here today, declined to say whether he would go to Chicago to present his evidence to the grand jury.

According to Maharg's story, the first, second and final games of the series were "thrown" to Cincinnati by eight Chicago players. He said he and Bill Burns, a business partner and former American league pitcher, were approached by Cicotte, the Chicago pitcher, who told them that a group of prominent players would be willing to "throw" the series if they were given $100,000.

Attell acted as "fixer" Maharg said the White Sox players were "double crossed" by Abe Attell, former featherweight boxing champion, who acted as the "fixer" and "go."

Schroeder and Rinehart Withdraw From International Airplane Race

(By Associated Press) ETAMPES, France, Sept. 28.—The two American aviators in the James Gordon Bennett race were eliminated after the contest had been in progress about an hour today. Major E. W. Schroeder withdrew because of ignition trouble after flying 100 miles. Howard Rinehart withdrew shortly after starting, because of difficulty with the steering mechanism.

Dr. Romanet, one of the French competitors, withdrew after the second lap. Kirsch, a second Frenchman, withdrew after making 200 kilometers in 43 minutes, 52 seconds.

The third French entrant, Sadi Lecomte, made 200 kilometers in 43 minutes 42 3/4 seconds, a new world's record. The only other competitor remaining was F. F. Raynham, the sole British entrant.

Six Entrants Start

ETAMPES, France, Sept. 28.—(By Associated Press)—The international airplane race for the James Gordon Bennett trophy, after having been delayed several hours by adverse weather conditions, was started today.

Kirsch of France, flying a Neuport machine, was first across the starting line and made his first hundred kilometers in 21 minutes 23 seconds.

Captain De Romanet of France made his first hundred kilometers in 22 minutes 52 1/2 seconds.

There were six entrants, three French, two American and one British. Major Rudolph Schroeder, flying a Verville-Packard biplane, and Howard Rinehart, pilot of the Dayton Wright monoplane, were the American competitors. Roland Rohlf, pilot of the Curtiss machine entered by S. E. J. Cox of Texas, was injured on Sunday, and his machine was smashed.

Captain L. R. Tall-Cox, a British flyer, did not arrive in time and was debarked. F. F. Raynham, flying a Martinsyde, was the only British flyer to enter.

Sadi Lecomte and Kirsch, pilots of Neuport machines, and Captain De Romanet, driving a Spad, were the French entries.

Rohlf appeared early at the field, as a spectator. He had a black eye and was suffering from numerous bruises.

Commissioner Murphy Allowed $20,000 Additional to Finish Macadam Work

The municipal council unanimously went on record at its meeting this morning to accept Chapter 166 of the Acts of 1920, providing for one day off in eight for members of the local police department.

Upon the acceptance of the act, Mayor Perry D. Thompson, head of the department of public safety, announced that he would put it in operation here on or about Oct. 1.

Only one opponent to the measure appeared when Mayor Thompson called for opposition before the roll was called on the matter. He was Frank R. Bailey, who said that he believed that the matter should be left to the people to decide and that if the police wanted one day off in eight, they should get it.

ARMED MEN ATTACK IRISH WORKERS

BELFAST, Sept. 28.—There was a recurrence last night of the rioting and shooting which have been in progress here at intervals since the week-end. The outbreak occurred in the Old Lodge road district, where shipyard workers were attacked by armed men. Seven persons were wounded by revolver firing. The military dispersed the rioters by bayonet charges.

There were 17 arrests for violations of the curfew law.

CHARTER COMMISSION HEARING TONIGHT

The Lowell charter commission will proceed this evening in its investigation of city departments in an effort to determine the merits and bad features of the present charter and what ought to be incorporated in a new form of charter were it to be adopted.

This evening the commissioners will listen to John F. Salmon, head of the department of water works and fire protection; Chief Edward F. Saunders of the fire department; Supt. Robert Gardner of the water department; Chief Clerk John W. Crawford of the water department; Commissioner George E. Marchand of the public property department and Supt. Francis A. Connor of the same department. The meeting will be called at 7.30 and, like its predecessors, will be open to the public.

45,000 RIFLES FOR GEN. WRANGEL

IRISH TOWN SACKED BY "BLACK AND TANS"

TRIM, County Meath, Ireland, Sept. 25.—Because of the burning of the barracks here Sunday morning and the wounding of Chief Constable White, a number of armed men descended on the town Sunday night and burned buildings, damaged the residences of Sinn Féiners, and indulged in indiscriminate shooting. Several casualties are reported.

The reprisals are alleged to be the work of the "Black and Tan" police. The regular police are taking steps to prevent further damage. During the reprisals some 30 houses were burned and the fires were still blazing at noon yesterday.

Marked House Destroyed
Among the premises destroyed were a mineral water factory, which was a principal industry, and the market house. Practically all the houses on both sides of the chief thoroughfare were set on fire. The damage is estimated at $50,000 pounds. Two small boys were shot during the night, one being seriously injured.

The police who were captured in the raid on the barracks had been warned to resign within a week.

The Black and Tan reached Trim about 3 o'clock in the morning on three lorries. They mounted machine guns in Market street, commanded petrol from a local shop and set fire to the principal hotel. They then ran through the streets firing shots and throwing bombs.

Main street was the most affected but no street was without blazing houses. The houses of noted Sinn Féiners were visited in an attempt to find the authors of the attack and the burning of the barracks. The Sinn Féiners were not found, though their

TERRIBLE TORTURES

Serbians

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Terrible tortures and hardships were inflicted upon the Montenegrins by the Serbian army of occupation, according to an official report of a commission of investigation, appointed by the Montenegrin foreign office, after the copies of the report have been sent to the European governments and one also is understood to have been submitted to the state department.

The commission charges that "crimes committed in Montenegro were ordered by the Serbian authorities and precisely by high officers such as Gen. Molish, Millovlitch, chief commander of the troops of occupation," and it gives the names and circumstances attending some of the atrocities. The report avers that the purpose was either to force those persecuted to declare allegiance to the Serbian king or to obtain information about their male relatives who had escaped from the Serbian authorities.

"Brutal violence and abuse are recorded," the report says. "For instance, cattle were seized, foodstuffs, money and house furnishings were taken away, houses and huts burned, crops destroyed, owners of homes and huts were compelled to set fire to their humble dwellings and then the soldiers pushed them among the flames where they perished."

"Women and children shut in the homes were ordered to the additional torture of being thrown in so that they might sting those pitiful bodies; they even had the cruelty of putting cats under the skirts of women that were then sewed around the limbs, the animals then whipped, so causing awful pain to the victims."

"Prisons were opened for children and received mothers with nursing infants; the sick were cynically ordered to leave their beds and were led to jail; aged persons, men and women, had to walk sometimes barefooted on bad roads for over 30 kilometers; old people, women and children were beaten mercilessly with heavy sticks or iron rods and also with wet ropes."

remains of prisoners were left without nourishment sometimes as long as 10 days; the bodies of the dead in the prisons were left among the prisoners for seven days; the prisoners were forced to put their feet on the fire and nails were thrust under their finger nails.

"Youths were hung by the hair and plunged into water up to their mouths. Men were attached to carriages in the place of horses and then killed. The corpses of Montenegrins, monstrously murdered, were left in the middle of streets to be prey for dogs. Mothers of the rebels were thrown upon the fire; old men had their teeth pulled; women were violated."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

There's a touch of the freedom and exhilarating air of the golden west about the sketch comedy of last week. "Back in Beverly Hills," they call it and it is planned that Beverly Hills is a district near Hollywood, California. It produces such merry dispositions and wholesome fun as were evident in the past week's sketch. It should find no difficulty in attracting hundreds of people from other sections of the country.

The Stephens and Hollister team will be favorably remembered by Keith patrons for their pretty sketch of last season, "Out in California." The present vehicle isn't entirely different in general atmosphere, yet every line of it is new and sparkling.

Miss Stephens is of the exceedingly vivacious type, and she makes them and just bubbling over with fun. Hollister is an expert in the art of dry humor. He never puts much apparent effort into his work, but more laughs than a dozen ordinary hard-working funny men. The one bit of slapstick in the entire offering isn't a bit forced. Just a lot of bright repartee, a genial atmosphere and two exceedingly likable personalities make up the skit and those are sufficient for its success.

If you're married you'll appreciate Bessie Rempel and "Him," evidently her husband, to the nth degree. If you're not, you'll get a mighty vivid impression of what married life may be in store for you. "His Day Off" is the title of their affair. The scene is the ocean, or a lake or something. "Him" and "She" are sitting in a boat attempting to catch fish. A most earnest fisherman is he who hates to be disturbed. Less ardent in the Waltonian pursuit is a lot of bright repartee, a genial atmosphere and two exceedingly likable personalities make up the skit and those are sufficient for its success.

Spill Vane is a plump bit of a miss whom the program terms the Little Welsh prima donna. From the Covent Garden Royal Opera of London is she supposed to have come and one can readily believe it after she has sung a few notes. Not unlike Galli-Curci in her manner, she sings with a strong, clear voice. She doesn't incline very strongly to the classical but finds her field most readily in the better grade popular numbers.

But Kenney is a comedian who delights in philosophizing with a fiction character, "Mr. Nobody." His comments on married and pre-married life caused many a laugh and affection among the members of the audience. Howard Mack and Henrietta Lane in "What's It All About," an excellent entertainment, are exceedingly clever with their feet. The Musical Johnsons, two men, are above the rank and file of xylophonists, while the El Earl Strangers are strong men of no mean ability.

The movie part of the bill introduces the usual favorites, Topics of the Day, Kinogram News Weekly and a comedy.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

In the stage presentation at the Lowell Opera house this week, a mystery surrounding the question "Who Killed Joshua Quinsey?" is not solved until just before the final curtain drops. The drama is "The Criminal Alibi" from the novel by George H. Parkhurst. It carries suspense throughout that defies lagging interest. Suspense created by the taking of human life and intensified by the tireless hunt for a man known as "The Murderer." In a very brief prologue which one must see to understand, a murder is committed and in the following acts the finger of suspicion is pointed at five characters, all surrounded with some possibility of guilt and under these circumstances the mystery is solved at the last moment. The doubtful atmosphere as to the guilty person is strengthened because the playwright has built up probable motives for the crime in the case of several individuals. Besides, the activities of Milton Hyron, the amateur detective, also serve to make it difficult to place the guilt. As President Wilson has said, a detective story is an art for the mind, but a stage presentation of a detective story is better. The solving of the mystery is a startling surprise to the audience because in most instances, the spectators have fastened the guilt upon the wrong person. The part of amateur detective is played very well by Milton Hyron.

Knowles, the housekeeper of the murdered man, presents a very pleasing and accurate characterization. Florence Hill takes the part of a street thrasher, "Phoebe," and so well that she receives great applause on each appearance. Professor Hill is portrayed dramatically well by Jack Bennett, and Henry Curvey plays the part of a careless, carefree, and well-to-do man, irresponsible for most of his acts. Miss Ruth Whetton, a native of this city, making her first appearance as a professional, is very pleasing as "Edith." The part of a murdered man are in keeping with the general excellence of the cast.

THE STRAND THEATRE

"The Silver Horde" is the chief attraction at the Strand theatre for the first three days of the week. It is a Rex Beach story, the action of which is set in Alaska and Wall street and the price for which the two rival factions struggle being the salmon fisheries of the Katik district. Marsh, head of a powerful gang, is backed by a Wall street syndicate, is determined to monopolize the trade. He finds in Cherry Malotte, a beautiful daughter of Alaska, a worthy opponent, who with "Big George" attempts to hold their claims. Out from the mining country to the far north comes a discouraged man, Boyd Emerson, a self-confessed failure, and an alliance between Emerson and Cherry Malotte, and the three determine to fight to a finish. The Wall street gang resorts to trickery in an effort to break the trio, and the fight is waged in earnest. The action is set in New York to get the necessary capital and is successful. But it isn't fair to tell the whole story here. See it and enjoy it. Another high class play with a being shown for several weeks is "39 East," one of Rachel Crothers' latest comedy drama successes, a delightful play, which at one time was shown on the stage. The contrast between the stage production and the screen is very interesting. The play is a simple but wholesome comedy and one that is sure to please all lovers of good plays. The scenic effects are beautiful, while the photography is excellent. See it and you will enjoy it. In addition to these two numbers, there is also a two-reel comedy of the big-laugh variety, as well as interesting and instructive views of current events. The musical numbers by the theatre organist are of the usual high order.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

"The Prince Chap," an exceedingly appealing story of life in an artists' colony, is the feature attraction at the Merrimack Square theatre for the first half of the week and introduces Thomas Meighan, favorably remembered for his work in "The Miracle Man" and "Male and Female," in a most suitable role.

The picture was made from Edward Peple's well known play of the same name in which Cyril Scott appeared successfully for several years. William De Mille has transformed it into a screen comedy of more than ordinary merit.

Besides telling an entertaining story, the photoplay is crowded with well conceived scenes in the humble artists' colony in the Soho section of London. The plot concerns William Peyton, a sculptor, who goes to Soho to win fame and fortune, leaving Alice, his fiancée, behind him. At the death of a poor model, Peyton and his artist-chums become the guardians of Claudia, her little child.

Peyton's absence. Through innocent words of the child, a misunderstanding arises and Peyton and Alice become estranged. From then on the plot works its way through most interesting developments and the conclusion is exceptionally appealing.

Mr. Meighan in the role of Peyton, the artist, has a part for which he is admirably suited and which will doubtless augment his already extensive popularity. Lila Lee, another great screen favorite, also appears in "The Prince Chap" in a prominent role and there are several other well known screen players in the production. The picture as a whole has everything to commend it.

Other features which were well received by yesterday's audiences included Ben Turpin, the noted comedian, in "He Looked Crooked," the international news, "Uncle Sam of Freedom Ridge," a patriotic story, and Topics of the Day.

THE RIALTO

Both Wanda Hawley, the Realist star, and Tyrone Power, a legitimate actor who leaves the stage once in a while for the cinema, are winning new

laurels at the Rialto theatre in a big double bill for the first three days of the week. Wanda is playing in a picture, thoroughly delightful comedy entitled "Food for Scandal," and Mr. Power is in a timely play depicting the inroads of the Bolshevist elements in labor ranks and the solution of the present problem of capital and labor. Wanda Hawley made a big hit in "Miss Hobbs." That was her first starring vehicle, and reports from that showed that she was a star, she had a firmament all her own. In this dramatic she continues to dazzle thousands with her winning smile, her bewitching dimples, her sense of humor, her particular adaptability for light comedy roles, and the general air of a cultured woman which never leaves her, even when taking the part of a chorus girl, as she is called upon to do in this "For as Sylvia, the descendant of a Spanish nobleman, she was without funds, and had to get some. She was to capture San Francisco as a choir singer, but instead San Francisco captured her and put her in the front row of the Varieties. Because she wouldn't 'handie her skirts' like the other girls did, the press agent decided to feature her face and the trouble then began.

The picture in which Tyrone Power appears, "The Great Shadow," is a timely affair and shows the danger of Bolshevism. Reduced to essentials, Power, as MacDonald, the labor leader, might be Samuel Gompers, combatting the radical elements in labor's ranks, and urging as a solution, which is accepted in the picture a 12 months' armistice between capital and labor, which armistice will save a starving world. There is plenty of action in the piece, a rather clearer exposition than usual of this knotty problem and not too much sermonizing. Power is very good as the labor leader and the remainder of the cast is entirely adequate. "The Shadow," "Miss Hobbs," "Little Doctor," is a riotous laugh-causer, and the Fox News holds some startling pictures of the Wall street disaster, even the threatened looting of the street 20 minutes after the blast. The episode of "The Third Eye" is packed with thrills, as usual.

COX PRAISES BRYAN

Would Have Backed Nebraskan for Presidency if Latter Had Been Chosen

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 28.—Governor Cox, democratic presidential candidate, last night gave out a statement that he would have supported William J. Bryan for the presidency had the former secretary of state been nominated and added that he was fostering progressive ideas gained under Mr. Bryan's leadership.

His statement was in response to an inquiry from a local newspaperman regarding the position in the campaign of Mr. Bryan, who has withheld support from Governor Cox.

"I have known Mr. Bryan politically and personally for many years," said the governor's statement. "He has been an influence for good. I supported him three times for the presidency with my newspaper, my voice and my vote and would have done so again this year had he been the candidate of the democratic party instead of myself. As a matter of fact, as a young man I since have endeavored to propagate."

Disapproval of "matters" in the administrations of Attorney General Palmer and Postmaster-General Burleson was expressed by Governor Cox in addressing a large audience at the Auditorium, where a strenuous Nebraska campaign was closed.

He said that although he believed the two cabinet officers had performed their duties "whole-heartedly," and were conscientious men, he did not endorse matters in both of their administrations. No specific examples of his disapproval were cited.

He replied to several questions in a local newspaper, a repetition largely of past experiences of the candidate with western opposition press. In response to a question here as to whether he endorsed the Palmer and Burleson administration, he replied:

"I served in congress with both of these gentlemen. I know them to be high-minded, conscientious, men and believe that their administrations were whole-heartedly performed. Yet, there are matters in both of their administrations which I do not endorse. Neither do I endorse the policy of Frank Hitchcock as postmaster-general. Mr. Hitchcock, I will remember, is the gentleman who ran the road-order over Roosevelt in the convention of 1912 and organized the southern delegates in 1920 for General Wood.

"Neither do I endorse the administration of Philander C. Knox as attorney general. Mr. Knox, while an able jurist, is one of the foremost reactionists in the United States and his decisions were colored by his partisanship. This is merely a matter of difference in personal opinions and pertains to things that belong to past administrations."

The governor's speech here was the 11th in Nebraska yesterday, one of the busiest days of his western trip. In all he emphasized the League of Nations, from a moral viewpoint and also the material interests of Nebraskans. Late yesterday he spoke to a large crowd at Lincoln in the Auditorium and an overflow gathering outside. During the trip from the Wyoming line he made eight rear platform talks through the Platte valley. Here and at Lincoln he expanded on his charges that the reactionary press was biased. He declared that there was "a deliberate and corrupt purpose to keep the facts from the people," and referring to republican contributions coming, he said, from "big business," he said there was an "attempt to buy up newspapers everywhere."

AIDS TO DIGESTION

Whatever improves bodily conditions in general aids digestion.

Cheerfulness, exercise, fresh air, baths and good habits make your digestion better able to take care of any burdens you impose upon it. But the greatest aid to good digestion is good blood. Anemia, or thin blood, is a common cause of indigestion. Normal action of the stomach is impossible without healthy, well-oxygenized blood.

Dyspepsia, which does not yield to ordinary treatment, may be quickly corrected when the blood is enriched. Many people have secured relief from chronic forms of indigestion by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which make the blood rich and red, capable of carrying an increased amount of oxygen, the great supporter of human life.

Have you ever seriously considered giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial? To tone your digestion, increase your vitality and make life better worth living? If your blood is thin and your digestion weak you certainly need them. Send for the booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat." It is free and will help you decide.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 60 cents per box.—Adv.

Leaders of every church, Protestant and Catholic, Jew and Gentile, in form, in principle and in substance."

He repeated attacks upon "the senatorial oligarchy." Introduced to his audience here by Senator Hitchcock, who led the administration forces in the senate, he praised the senator and repeated that every objection to the league was corrected by the Hitchcock reservations which the senatorial oligarchy rejected.

Questions in the local newspapers resulted in another criticism by the governor of alleged republican "scouts" who were sent ahead on his tour under orders from Chairman Hays of the republican national committee to embarrass the democratic campaign.

"VERITABLE MIRACLE"

Archbishop Mannix Amazed by MacSwiney

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Archbishop Mannix of Australia, who recently was refused permission by the British government to visit Ireland, called on Lord Mayor MacSwiney in Brixton prison yesterday afternoon. When the prelate emerged from the prison, accompanied by Mrs. MacSwiney, he was besieged by the newspapermen, who requested an expression of opinion concerning Mr. MacSwiney.

The archbishop unburdened from his recent taciturn mood long enough to say to the newspapermen: "I find him to be a veritable miracle. To me it is a miracle."

Wilfrid Cabana, Champion Heavyweight Lifter, Brings Bride to Lowell on Wedding Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Cabana of Montreal, who last Saturday were married at Sherbrooke, Que., are spending their honeymoon in this city as the guests of Mr. Cabana's brothers, Napoleon and Arthur Cabana of 31 Nichols street. The couple will leave tomorrow for Manchester, N. H., where for a few days they will be the guests of Mr. Cabana's father, Mr. Michael Cabana.

Wilfrid Cabana is the champion heavy weight lifter of the world and holder of the Louis Cyr belt. For eight years he was a member of the Montreal police force, but a few years ago he entered the world of sports and received Decarie, successor to Louis Cyr, of the world's champion belt, which he is still holding. The visitor called at The Sun editorial rooms last evening and displayed the belt, which is a magnificent piece of work, bearing a fine picture of the champion and the Canadian seal, the maple leaf and beaver.

er. It is of 14 karat gold and is valued at about $400. Mr. Cabana's one hand best record is 300 pounds, while his back lift record is 3200 pounds. With his back he features the lifting of an automobile containing several men and making an aggregate weight of 4035 pounds. He will leave shortly for Baltimore, where he will begin a 10 weeks' engagement on a theatrical circuit.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Parents of Pupils of the Agawam School Expected to Appear Before School Board Tonight

At the regular monthly meeting of the school committee to be held this evening it is expected that parents of pupils of the Agawam street school will register a formal protest against the closing of that building and the necessity of sending their children to the Carter street school.

The Agawam street school, has been closed by order of Supt. Hugh J. Molloy owing to the small attendance there during the first week of the new school year.

Children who were going there were instructed to report to the Carter street school yesterday, but few of them did so. Supt. Molloy has also ordered the closing of the New Moody street school and the transfer of pupils there to the Pawtucket school. As far as can be learned, there has been no protest against the latter action.

Supt. Molloy was empowered by the school committee to put in force readjustment measures wherever he found them necessary and the closing of the schools was in accordance with this authority.

TROTSKY DISCUSSES SOVIET PEACE TERMS

LONDON, Sept. 28.—In a statement to the Moscow correspondent of the Manchester Guardian regarding the peace terms offered by the soviet government to the Poles at the Riga conference Leon Trotsky, the soviet war minister, declared:

"If the Poles refuse peace on those terms this will convince the most backward peasant in the darkest corner that it is impossible to obtain peace without a fight to a finish."

He declared that the bolshevik military situation was not so bad by a great deal, as military circles in western Europe imagined. Asked his opinion of the chances of peace, he said he did not know what they were and was afraid not even Warsaw knew.

"They have received their instructions from Paris and London," he asserted. "In Paris they know very well what they want, namely to destroy, bleed white, disrupt and cripple Russia. On the other hand, I fear the gentlemen in London do not know what they want, least of all Lloyd George."

Sheep sheds, having accommodations for 70,000 animals, have been recently built at Denver, Col.

COX PROGRESSIVENESS POLISH ENVOY REPLIES TO SOVIET ULTIMATUM

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY, N.E.A. Staff Correspondent.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 28.—Prospects are better for Cox in Kansas right now than they were for Wilson at the end of September, 1916—and Wilson that year carried Kansas by 57,000.

That is the statement you hear in Kansas when you talk national politics. It is the thing that is spurring on democratic campaigners—and the thing that is worrying republicans.

Republicans are worried particularly because Governor Henry J. Allen, who won in 1916 by 162,000, in spite of the fact that Wilson carried the state, cannot be expected this year to help the Harding candidacy.

Allen, running on the republican ticket for re-election, is hurting Harding. For he has alienated labor through his court of industrial relations and a large segment of republican farmers have turned against him. The latter are rebelling because of opposition to three state constitutional amendments Allen is championing.

The worst point in the farm tenantry amendment the people will vote on, an amendment which farmers charge is practically socialistic.

Allen Has Hard Fight

This growing animosity toward Allen is boosting democratic stock tremendously. Even republicans admit Allen has a hard fight against Jonathan M. Davis, democratic candidate for governor. Davis has great strength with the farmers, for he is a farmer himself and now lives on the farm where he was born. For six years he has been president of the Farmers' state bank at Blue Mound. It is a real farmers' bank, in which he owns only five shares and claims the distinction of being a farmer rather than a banker-farmer. He has served five sessions in the legislature and two in the state senate.

Republicans in Kansas have viewed with alarm the big gains reported for Cox in northwest and western states he has campaigned in. They might his coming visit to Kansas will be at the psychological moment when he can build solidly on the democratic missionary work already done by Farmer Davis.

Anti-Allen feeling among farmers and labor—it is overwhelming among labor—would be sufficient to put over both Cox for president and Davis for governor. Farmers are vastly in the majority among Kansas voters, and the labor vote of the state is placed at about 50,000, which would be swelled to 100,000 approximately by women in labor ranks or labor families.

Women for the League

Women are expected to take a decided democratic leaning in Kansas because of their support of the League of Nations, as in other states. Women seem to be more interested in that issue than men. Many ministers have taken up the issue with sermons favoring the Cox espousal of the League of Nations and this is counting a great deal among women.

The Non-Partisan league has a stronghold in Kansas and is quietly extending its membership in spite of opposition that has been so strong, especially on the part of returned soldiers, that tar-and-feather parties have been staged.

The senatorial contest in Kansas is peculiar. Senator Charles, republican, is being opposed by former Governor George H. Hodges, democrat. Both are so ill they cannot campaign. The socialist candidate, woman, died after she was nominated. Curtis has a strong machine, but many people are talking of the strange precedent—that Kansas has not re-elected a United States senator for 30 years. Hodges is a good campaigner and Cox will suffer from the loss of his services.

Seven of the eight congressmen are republicans, but democrats claim they will gain three seats in the house.

Kansas spoiled its long republican record by going for Wilson twice, and for Bryan in 1896, and once in 1932, even went populist. So anything can happen in this state, where every youth is supposed to become a politician when he reaches 21.

WARNING AGAINST "FAKE" BEVERAGES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Warning against "fake" fruit beverages which have flooded the soft drink markets since the advent of prohibition, was issued yesterday by the public health service. Many of the orange beverages now being sold, it is said, consist only of sweetened carbonated water flavored with a little oil from the peel of oranges and artificially colored. The department of agriculture has ruled that provisions of the pure food act will be held to have been violated in case such drinks are sold under trade names which lead the purchasers to believe they contain the edible portion or juice of the fruit named.

Since 1913 the hourly wage of steel and iron-mill workers has increased 251 per cent.

Dizzy

If you get up in the morning feeling dizzy and weak, it usually indicates a sluggish liver, or poor digestion. Aside from its unpleasantness, this condition may become dangerous; it should be checked before your vitality becomes impaired, and you are then less able to withstand disease.

A teaspoonful of "L.F." Atwood's Medicine will stimulate the action of your digestive organs, and re-establish normal conditions. Taken regularly it will quickly restore your vitality, and you will sleep soundly and awake refreshed, and clear-headed.

Powders and tablets containing Acetanilid or other coal-tar derivatives tend to weaken the heart's action. The true "L.F." simply sets natural methods in action and benefits the entire system. If you have never used it send for a bottle now. Your druggist sells it for 50c a bottle, 60c a dozen. The "L.F." Medicine Co., Portland, Maine.

1¢ A DOSE

RIGA, Sept. 27.—(By Associated Press) M. Dymbski, head of the Polish peace delegation, in a reply today to the soviet ultimatum of Friday last, proposing an armistice, which the soviet delegates said must be accepted by the Poles within 10 days, says:

"Definition by the ultimatum of the time within which an armistice and peace preliminaries must be signed, as presented by the Russian delegation, does not in the least help bring the negotiations to a satisfactory result."

"On the contrary, it gives the impression that the side presenting such an ultimatum reserves to itself the right to break off the negotiations at any moment."

MARSHAL FOCH'S MESSAGE TO LEGION

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 28.—Marshal Foch sent this message to the American Legion convention yesterday:

"Regretting my inability to find myself among the former combatants of the glorious American army, my heart is with them at the moment of the second anniversary of the fighting they went through by the side of the allies for the common cause of right and liberty."

"I again render homage to the valor and to the tenacity, which they unceasingly showed on the battlefields of France, in the days of misfortune and the days of success; the magnificent enthusiasm with which they answered our call; the great part they took in the sacrifices of war. The glorious remembrance of those who on our soil will remain a token of the profound gratitude and the indelible union of our two countries."

"I send my cordial greeting to Cleveland, the 'steel city,' and to the great state of Ohio which has furnished to America so many illustrious statesmen, and to France so many faithful friends."

POPULATION OF MISSOURI

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Missouri has a population of 3,403,547, an increase of 110,217, or 3.3 per cent, over 1910, the census bureau announced yesterday. El Paso, with an increase of $8,886, makes up 100 fifths of the total gain of the state.

WEDGED IN POLAR ICE PACKS

NOME, Alaska, Sept. 27.—Captain Rold Amundsen's Polar expeditionary ship, the Maud, is wedged tight in the Polar ice pack, west of Kolyuchin Bay, Siberia, and nearly midway between Wrangell Island and the northern Siberian coast, according to fur traders who reached Nome yesterday.

FLEET OF 285 WOODEN SHIPS FOR SALE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—A fleet of 285 wooden steamers totalling $94,735 deadweight tons, was offered for sale yesterday by the shipping board. The sale will be private and bids will be received until October 5 and then opened. This is the third time wooden vessels have been offered for sale by competitive bidding, but the other two attempts to dispose of part of this war-time fleet were unsuccessful. Most of the board's wooden fleet is now laid up in the James river near Newport News, Va.

in Hands of Few

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—Former Governor Samuel W. McCall, whose retirement as chairman of the board of directors of the Old South Trust company has been demanded by the bank commissioner, last night issued a formal statement upon the subject.

Mr. McCall criticizes Commissioner Allen's ethics, or lack of ethics, in not consulting him in reference to retiring from his salaried position, but reserves the heaviest of his ammunition for the "real engineer," a man, same unmentioned, who, the ex-governor implies, deals a double blow at the ex-governor personally and at the smaller banks in time of stress, the object of which, he infers, is to concentrate the control of the money of Boston in the hands of a few men.

McCall's statement is as follows:

"If the bank commissioner has ever asked that my connection with the Old South Trust company be terminated, that request has never been made of me. It was only at the urgent solicitation of friends of the bank that I decided to enter its service. I was first urged to accept the presidency, but that I declined to do. Every penny of salary that has been paid me has been much more than earned and I feel sure the bank has derived benefit from my service. Before I entered the bank I went carefully over the commissioner's statement showing an unimpaired capital and $29,000 surplus. I relied upon that.

"The gravamen of the crime, it seems, is that I was to receive a salary.

"One does not care to discuss his private affairs in public; but I had as attractive offers surely in other fields. I do not pretend to be an accomplished shaver of notes. It is not to my taste, but I may fairly well say that I am not

Lynn Contractor and Builder
Makes Wonderful Discovery

Mr. Frank S. Crosby, who is a contractor and builder, and resides at 1 Park street, Lynn, Mass., has made a wonderful discovery. His many friends will rejoice at hearing the good news. He is a gentleman of very few words, but puts plenty of force in what he says. The other day while talking to a Vitalitas representative, he had this to say:

"As my friends know, for the past five years I have suffered with rheumatism and general debility, trying first one remedy and then another to find something that would cure or help me, but in no case did I find the right remedy until I started the wonderful Vitalitas treatment.

"I am now a changed man. It has taken away all signs of my old ailments and I feel better all over. I eat younger and sleep as I did when I was younger and I'll wager I can do as good a day's work as any man, all due to this wonderful Vitalitas. These are my sentiments and you are at liberty to publish same that some other poor sufferer may read and benefit by my experience."

I want to show that Vitalitas contains merit and is doing all the things we claim of it. Reports are pouring in from all parts of New England from people who have received benefit for such ailments as rheumatism, indigestion, nervousness, stomach, kidney or liver ills. Start this great treatment today. It has a wonderful up-lifting effect in a few weeks on people who are growing old and easily fatigued, or are growing old and discouraged before their time.

Speaking of people who are easily fatigued, who lack ambition, nerve force and are often thin, weak and easily lacking in firm, healthy flesh, Joseph O. Harrigan, formerly visiting specialist Northeastern Dispensary, New York, says: "Patients who were apparently physical wrecks, who foolishly thought they needed only a blood tonic to enrich the blood, have come for treatment trembling and shaking, their nerve force almost exhausted, and in many such cases the administering of Bitro-Phosphate has produced seemingly magical results."

Physicians and hospitals have for some time recognized its value, especially in nervous conditions. So much so that Dr. Frederick Kille, author of medical text books and editor-in-chief of the Y. Physicians' "Who's Who," is led to make a statement:

"Bitro-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor and used by every hospital to increase strength and nerve force and to enrich the blood."

Any man or woman who desires to become more vigorous and energetic; to build up nerve force and endurance; to fill out undeveloped hollows; to have old-time ambition can procure this simple remedy at A. W. Dows or any drug store.

People who desire more will power, a keen, alert mind and sturdy body, are using Bitro-Phosphate all over America today with splendid results.—Adv.

Tells Weak, Nervous People
What to Eat to Grow Vigorous

Doctors Agree That Present Day
Foods Do Not Supply Enough
Phosphate—A Vitally Necessary
Element

Bitro-Phosphate a Common
Organic Phosphate is What
Nerve Sick Tired Out Thin
People Need

If nervous people would eat more old-fashioned oatmeal, graham bread, dried beans and peas, the yolks of many eggs and even the despised circus peanut, they would be helped wonderfully.

Egg bread is fine also and so are lentils and unpolished rice.

This is because these particular foods are rich in phosphorus, and, as most people know, this is a vital element of not only the nerve cells, but of every other cell in the body.

There isn't enough organic phosphate in modern prepared foods to cover 40% of the men and women of America very much good.

That is why so many people of today are nerve sick, weak, run-down, have no ambition and in many cases are simply "skin and bone."

and one that every druggist dispenses is known as Bitro-Phosphate and comes in tablet form all ready for use.

A few grains taken with meals supply just the organic phosphate that most foods lack, and if taken regularly, say ten grains with each meal, it has a wonderfully up-lifting effect in a few weeks on people who are growing old and easily fatigued, or are growing old and discouraged before their time.

CAMDEN, N. J.—Uncle Sam's first home-made passenger ship, the Panhandle State, which has been completed here, will be put into commission by the United States Mail Steamship Co., on the New York to London run in the near future. The Panhandle State is said to be the last word in comfort and luxury.

without some elements of fitness. I have the egoism to state that I know as much of the principles of finance and banking as some gentlemen in Boston who are drawing five or ten times more than I was receiving. I may say that I twice served as receiver of a trust company and sometime paid the depositors in full, something that at least has not been fashionable. If indeed it was in accord with sound banking. In neither case did the supreme court, which appointed me receiver, state that I should work for nothing as the commissioner evidently decides.

"I should have welcomed a hint from the commissioner that my services were not needed, but he did not ask me my views or say anything to me about the matter. It was wholly unnecessary and without justification for him to become a party to this public parade, which can do the bank no good and which the contrivers of the situation were obviously aiming at me."

"But I am not concerned with the commissioner, but with the real engineer. What a moment this is for a dastard who wishes to deal a double blow! In this time of great public excitement and financial unrest, such a blow might spread further havoc among the smaller banks and help concentrate the control of the money of Boston in the hands of a few men, so that no one could do business without their consent; and more and more the men in high office would become their puppets; and at the same time it would serve the purpose of a crew as corrupt in business as it is in politics and expose to the charge of unpopularity one whom it was their purpose to destroy."

An Open Letter
To Pile Sufferers

Says Had Every Kind of Pile Known, Suffered Tortures, Three Doses of Miro Treatment Cured

Mrs. T. O. Greenough of 3 Trion st., Lynn, Mass., writes: "I suffered with piles not only one kind but every kind known, bleeding, protruding, internal and external. God only knows what I suffered. Tried all kinds of salve and ointments but not one did me any good. Could lie down with difficulty and could not sit even on a rubber cushion. Read about Miro in our local paper and had my husband get a bottle the next day from a Boston druggist.

"I could you believe I had only taken 3 doses when I was walking around and feeling pretty good. I had made up my mind I could not live in the condition I was in for another week unless I got relief. You certainly have a God-send in Miro. I cannot praise it too highly."

Miro Internal Treatment is only sold on a basis of complete satisfaction or money back. Ask Fred Howard to show you an original package. He sells lots of it.—Adv.

A. O. H. MEETING HERE

A. O. H. County Meeting to be Held in This City in December—Meeting of Division 8 Last Evening

The next county meeting of the A. O. H. will be held in this city in December as a result of an invitation made by local President Michael J. Monahan at the county board meeting held in Woburn last Sunday. This was announced at the regular meeting of Division 8, A. O. H., held at Ellerman hall, Middle street, last evening. The assembly last night acted upon a large number of membership applications. A report of proceedings at the Woburn meeting was read by the several delegates and Daniel F. Kelley, of Lowell, secretary of the county meeting read a report of the work throughout the county during the last three months. The county delegates appointed Representative Barrett of Lowell as a member of the committee on appeals and grievances. An interesting review of the organization from its establishment was read by County President Daniel J. Murphy and an account of the building fund committee was read by Daniel J. Cosgrove.

SEN. NEW RAPS WILSON

Declares President's Betrayal
War With Japan

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—President Wilson has "surrendered our friend, the republic of China, to our antagonist, the empire of Japan," Senator Harry S. New, of Indiana, declared yesterday in a statement issued by republican national campaign headquarters, commenting on Associated Press despatches from Tokyo Sunday night. Senator New is a member of the foreign relations committee of the senate.

"An Associated Press despatch from Tokyo yesterday morning quotes a Japanese statesman as saying that negotiations with the United States on California questions are entering upon the serious stage," the statement says.

"The despatch adds that 'Foreign Minister Uchida went to Odawara and conferred on the California questions with Field Marshal Yamagata, supreme military counselor. That gives peace-loving Americans something to ponder over.'

"To Japan, President Wilson has conceded a paramount position in Asia, by means of the Lansing-Ishii agreement. To Japan he has given Hay for American trade in China.

"To Japan he has given the Lapon, the Marianas and the Caroline islands in the Pacific, to bar our way to our own possessions in the Philippines. To Japan he has yielded the Shantung provinces with its 16,000,000 Chinamen.

In every way possible he has sur-

—Tanlac Restores Her

"Oh, how I wish I had got hold of Tanlac when my troubles first started, more than a year and a half ago, for then I could have continued my business," said Mrs. A. M. Busch, the expert scalp specialist, with parlors at 78 Columbia st., Bangor, Me., recently.

With the exception of the period of ill health referred to above, Mrs. Busch has practiced her profession in Bangor for sixteen years, and her many friends and patrons will be glad to learn that she has recovered her health and is again carrying on her business.

"At the time I began taking 'Tanlac,' she explained, "I had been flat on my back in bed for five months. For a long time previous my stomach had been in such a disordered condition I couldn't eat anything but a little gruel and broth or something of that kind."

rendered our friend, the Republic of China, to our antagonist, the empire of Japan. He has yielded American interests, politics, commerce and safety as often as Japan has demanded them. He has never secured in return a single concession from Japan.

"As a consequence of this timid and anti-American course, he is now being pressed for more sacrifices and surrenders of American interests, Japan finds him too willing to give away American interests that she is determined to get the pound of flesh while the getting is good."

"She demands now that he settle the California land question in her favor and guarantee her all rights and privileges of citizenship on the Pacific coast; and she demands this final sacrifice with vague threats of 'serious' complications if the sacrifice is not made."

This is the danger that a supine and timid democratic policy has brought us to—the danger of an open conflict. That is the kind of 'peace' that a democrat in the White House guarantees us with his international and un-American policies."

PLAN TO PROMOTE BIG
BUILDING CAMPAIGN

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The National Industrial Congress of Building and Construction, formed here yesterday, today had its steering committee working to promote a building campaign throughout the country and materially decrease the existing shortage of homes.

The avowed purpose of the congress is to bring together every element concerned in building and get them all working in harmony.

Among organizations represented at the forming of the congress were the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor, the Associated General Contractors of America, the National Building Trades Employers, the American Institute of Architects, the Engineering Council and the material interests.

Mr. Craig, secretary of the Building Construction Employers' Association of Chicago, declared that action should be begun at once, since building material was now cheaper than it had been for a year.

"Prices now are lower than a year ago, and, right now, with things

I suffered terribly from throbbing headaches and a disagreeable tightness in the back of my head and neck.

"I was very nervous and went through night after night without closing my eyes. About a year and a half ago, I had to give up my business, and while it looked like everything in the world was done for me, I kept getting worse until finally I had to take my bed."

"Well, it's the truth, I began to feel better by the time I had taken three doses of Tanlac. So I continued taking it, and two weeks ago I went down town, the first time I had been on the street since last Thanksgiving day.

"I have taken four bottles now, and am back at my business, meeting my customers and feeling good all the time. My appetite is so good I can hardly get enough to eat, my nerves are all right, and I sleep fine every night. My friends are all the time complimenting me on my improvement and asking me what I am taking. It is always a great pleasure to me to tell them Tanlac is what has made the wonderful change."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Greens Drug Store, Merrimack Square, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

1000 Eggs
In Every Hen

New System of Poultry Keeping—Get Dollars a Week Eggs—Famous Poultryman

TELLS HOW

"The great trouble with the poultry business has always been that the laying life of a hen was too short," says Henry Traford, International Poultry Expert and Breeder, for nearly 35 years Editor of Poultry Success.

The average pullet lays 150 eggs, if kept the second year, she may lay 100 more. Then she goes to market. Yet it has been scientifically established that every pullet is born or hatched with over one thousand minute egg germs in her system—and will lay them on a highly profitable basis over a period of four to six years' time if given proper care.

How to work to get 1000 eggs from every hen; how to get pullets laying early; how to make the old hens lay like pullets; how to keep up heavy egg production all through cold winter months when eggs are highest; triple egg production; make slacker hens bustle; $5 profit from every hen in six winter months. These and many other money making poultry secrets are contained in Mr. Traford's "1000 EGG HEN" system of poultry raising. One copy of which will be sent absolutely free to any reader of this paper who keeps six hens or more. Eggs should go to a dollar or more a dozen this winter. This means big profit to the poultry keeper who gets the eggs. Mr. Traford tells how. If you keep chickens and want to get the most money for you, cut out this ad and send it with your name and address to Henry Traford, Suite 639 M. Tyne Bldg., Birmingham, N. Y. and a free copy of "THE 1000 EGG HEN" will be sent by return mail.—Ad.

THE CALL OF EDUCATION

The air is filled with announcements of free educational courses for students during the winter season.

College education that was formerly given only within the great institutions of learning is now brought to the doors of those who aspire to greater knowledge.

Men advanced in years read the courses offered to their boys almost grails and wonder what a change has come over the world since the time when they walked seven miles to school daily and perhaps paid for instruction when they arrived.

This is distinctively an age of education and there is no excuse for any young man remaining ignorant or failing to acquire a liberal education.

The only question is whether the student is willing to work. If so, the way is open and the path is clear.

The first and most essential point is to fix upon a goal, an aim or purpose to be followed with dogged tenacity until success is achieved.

First, then, is necessary the vision which enables a young man to see conditions around him and what is coming in the natural order of things. Second, judgment to pass upon those conditions and draw accurate conclusions. The third essential element is the courage to do what we know or believe to be the proper thing at a given time.

These principles will lead to concentration of effort upon a single aim or purpose and without this concentration no great success is possible. As a rule, it takes a man a lifetime to make a success of any one line of business. If that be the fact, will it not be futile for any man to divide his efforts among many objects? Better one thing done well than a great many half done or spoiled.

In setting out to accomplish any end, it is important to take the most direct course. It is very disappointing to find after years of effort that you are on the wrong road. Thus foresight is a necessary element. If a man sets out on a voyage in an unseaworthy ship, he may expect to be shipwrecked; if he sails in a leaky boat, he must realize that ultimately he will sink. These may seem to be risks that no person gifted with ordinary common-sense would assume. On the contrary, every day brings examples of cases in which men set out on more reckless ventures than any of those cited.

Their courage is good, but their judgment bad. It is useless for a man to hammer his head against a stone wall in trying to accomplish what the man of good judgment can see is impractical.

By using their capabilities to better advantage, most men can accomplish more than they do, without any additional education. This is where the laws of success come in and that call for concentration, perseverance, sound judgment as to methods, ambition, tact, enthusiasm and will power. The man who drifts will never accomplish anything. Other great obstacles to success are the lack of resolution, decision, enterprise or initiative.

But other things being equal, the man who has most wisely prepared for opportunity is he who will accomplish most. This preparation usually consists in education that may be along the lines of a general school course or may specialize on certain subjects in order to attain excellence. This is a great age for specialization.

Few men can master a great many distinct arts and, therefore, it has been found that better results are attained by the professional man who devotes all his talents to one particular branch. It is better to master one branch of business or one art than to follow many and excel in none.

In the various courses now offered through our evening schools, elementary and high, the Textile school, the College Extension courses, and now the Knights of Columbus school, there is variety enough to suit everybody. The K. of C. courses are free to all except service men regardless of creed or race. The Knights had a portion of their war camp activity fund left over when the expeditionary forces were recalled from France and this money is now being spent in this way for the benefit of the service men in helping them to improve their condition in life. There is no intention to oppose or duplicate other courses offered but simply to provide special facilities for the service men.

With all the educational opportunities now available, the young man who needs such help and is not taking advantage of them, is untrue to himself, to his family and his country. He is a slacker in the cause of human progress to which each individual should contribute his or her share.

CHARTER DEFECTS

A few of the most palpable defects of our present charter may be stated as follows and from their being wholly self-evident no proof need be given: The number of members of the municipal council is too small—so small that not over one per cent. of the citizens ever know for whom they are voting.

After election each member is vested with too much power because he has the dual function of legislative and executive authority. These governmental functions should not be both vested in the same body.

The entire responsibility of our city government should never be placed absolutely in the hands of three men. Lowell is not a town of a few thousand inhabitants. When a bad man gets into office as commissioner, he can so trench himself therein at the city's expense that it is very difficult to get him out.

The charter provides no ready and effective check on bad men who may

With the salary made nominal, professional politicians could not afford to spend their entire time working for election to the municipal council. The ordinary business man who is absolutely barred under present conditions would then have a chance.

THE AUDITORIUM

In his speech at the laying of the corner stone of the Memorial Auditorium, Congressman Rogers voiced one of the aspects in which the new building, in addition to honoring our heroes, will supply a very urgent public need, when he said:

"For nearly a generation this great city has been without a forum, a meeting place for all. We have all felt and deplored the lack. It is fitting that in doing honor to the veterans of our war, we should join an accomplishment which will promote the education and well-being of the whole body of our citizenship. The laying of this corner stone marks a notable day in the history of our beloved city."

The question of a public hall had been agitated for years. It had even been referred to the people and emphatically favored on a referendum vote; but nothing was done towards providing a municipal hall until the movement for the Auditorium was started. When completed, this building will not only serve that and many other purposes, but it will be one of which the city may well be proud, one that will bring here conventions of national bodies and afford ample accommodation for the largest that is likely to assemble here in our day.

The semi-centennial of the Massachusetts Agricultural college will be made the occasion for a series of meetings and conventions on October 14, 15 and 16. The college is doing excellent work in the interest of scientific agriculture, forest conservation and country planning. The sixteenth annual convention of the American Civic association will be held in connection with the celebration and will be an event of unusual importance owing to the number of distinguished speakers who will discuss subjects of interest chiefly to farmers and people who reside in rural districts.

One man instantly killed, another probably fatally injured, as a result of the careless driving of a car by a drunken automobilist Sunday. And with only a charge of manslaughter pending against the guilty party, some people are likely to conclude there is a good prospect for an addition to be made to the long list of cases in which the punishment has failed to fit the crime.

There will be no limit to the full measure of sympathy that will go out to the people of France in the hour when they have just lost the services of their most useful statesman, M. Deschanel—eight months ago elected president of the republic—who has at last broken down under the weight of official duties and injuries resulting from his recent accident.

It cost James Hartness $23,250 to obtain the republican nomination for the governorship of Vermont which has about a third as much population as Middlesex county. At the head of the G. O. P. procession still goes the banner inscribed, "Great is our confidence in the might of the slush fund."

"Next" is called in the competition for the honor of being known as the last man to catch a salmon in the Merrimack. Someone ought to be able to step forward and attempt to catch a salmon. Agent W. A. Mitchell's record of 21 years, but who shall certify to the truth of fish yarns?

William G. McAdoo says: "There are some American politicians who are just as bad as the Kaiser and even worse." Some people will think that Mr. McAdoo might use a little moderation in referring even to Wilhelm.

The chamber of commerce has hung a big map of the city's streets on its walls and doubtless anyone who feels hurt after bumping the highway bumps will be permitted to freely shake his fists and make use of expressive language in front of it.

It may be well remembering that Oct. 4 is the 95th anniversary of the birth of Rutherford B. Hayes, but there is not likely to be much difference of opinion regarding the desirability of forgetting as completely as possible about the circumstances under which he landed in the presidential chair.

One way of improving the city government might be to provide for the use of a phonograph to deliver some of the almost unnumbered speeches that are expected from the mayor who then might devote more time to the consideration of the city's business.

One of the surest ways of helping to sound the knell of prosperity is to go about predicting that the present days of busy mills, good wages and satisfied business men cannot last forever. Just exactly why can't they?

The statement comes from Connecticut that the democrats of that state are likely to score a triumph for Cox because they are strongly organized. Here is a hint for some democrats nearer home than the Nutmeg state.

It may be true, as asserted by Mr. Hoover, that the government is profiteering at the expense of depositors in postal savings banks, but we would rather not believe that our Uncle Samuel is quite so mean.

No poet is ever likely to sing of America, "I'll fear the land to hastening fills a prey," so long as she goes on, as she has for the last 28 years, establishing a new high school every day.

The coal-rationing plan seems to resolve itself into a recognition of the principle that to him that hath shall be given as well as to him that hath not.

The cut of 10 to 20 per cent. in the price of coal over business is a big help to the farmers, but then everything does seem to be coming the farmers' way this year.

Wouldn't Do at All

The sportsman strode into a poultryer's shop, and with the air of a man who meant business, said:

"Can you sell me a nice, plump pheasant?"

"I'm sorry, I have not a pheasant left, sir," replied the shopman, "but here are some fine sausages that I can highly recommend. I'm sure your wife will be delighted with them."

"Sausages be blowed!" yelled the sportsman, "I tell my wife I shot sausages!"—Los Angeles Times.

Blood Eskimos

Captain Jon Bernard has come back to Nome, Alaska, after spending four years in the Arctic hunting for blood Eskimos. "Only brunets," the half frozen captain said he found. It will be hard convincing the hardy captain that Stefansson didn't bleach his Eskimos before bringing them to civilization. Future blond hunters in the Arctic will do well to take with them a liberal supply of peroxide. But, anyway, why run up to the north pole looking for blonds, when they may be found nearer home?

MAN ABOUT TOWN

A number of people have asked why there wasn't a greater turnout in the parade held Saturday afternoon in connection with the laying of the corner stone of the memorial auditorium in East Merrimack street. It was, indeed, one of the shortest processions ever held in Lowell, but even at that, was much longer than the officials in charge of the exercises had originally expected or planned. It was the desire of the auditorium commission merely to have small delegations from each of the local military and patriotic organizations appear in the parade. As it was, the local post of the American Legion sent 50 men, the G. A. R., 37, Red Cross 30, and so on. The organizations responded generously to the request to send delegates. When the auditorium is completed and formal dedicatory exercises are held, a more elaborate parade will undoubtedly be held. But Saturday's met all expectations of those who were in charge of arrangements.

A correspondent has sent me specimens of wild flowers gathered from the autumn fields. One of these is of the delicately formed and beautiful ladies' tresses. "This is an orchid found in great abundance in September and October," says the letter. "The braided appearance of the spikes would count for the popular name: the plant's English name was formerly 'ladies' tresses' from a fancied resemblance between its twisted clusters and the tresses which played an important part in the feminine toilet. It is also called by some of the country people 'twisted hyacinth'."

The other specimen is of Queen Anne's lace, of which the letter says: "Its cobby aspect won it the title of Queen Anne's lace. When first introduced into Great Britain it was known, altho' the supposition is that it was brought over by the Dutch during the reign of Elizabeth." Corbin's letter says: "These are flowers which close at the approach of a storm, thus protecting their pollen and nectar from the dissolving rain. Linnaeus invented a famous 'flower clock' which indicated the hours of the day by the closing of different flowers. This habit of closing has been called the 'sleep flowers' who have felt the hidden power of herbs and might of magic spells," sang Spenser in the 'Faerie Queene'."

The days are here when the gray squirrels and the chipmunks in the woods around Lowell must begin to take serious thought of the winter ahead. With the earlier cool days of fall and the falling of the first few ripened nuts they begin to scamper about with an added business in their active movements. With all their interesting capers and habits, the way in which the squirrels hide their food has always been most interesting and puzzling to me. If you watch one of them quietly you will very likely see him pick up some article that is esteemed for its food value and scamper carelessly about, suddenly come to a stop, dig for a few moments with its tiny fore feet, and then drop its store into the hole, pull the leaves and dirt over it and whisk away. As far as human senses can detect there is nothing whatever to indicate the place where the food, that may be sorely needed later, has been hidden. Yet with their wits so sharp, they are instinct for his guide, the animal returns and resurrounds a meal when the time comes that he needs it. The squirrels sometime play strange tricks in connection with their gathering of supplies for winter food. A Lowell man had a summer home near the Washington street car line. In the neighborhood grew stunted pine trees, such as are familiar all along the New England shore of the ocean. The only other tree in the vicinity, usually, is a sort of scrub oak that bears a very bitter acorn. The wife of the Lowell man went to the sea coast home for a few days last winter. When her husband had arrived a little later, she thanked him for his thoughtfulness in having had a large barrel of pinecones accumulated for use in kindling fires. This was something of a puzzle until an investigation made it certain that squirrels had filled the barrel as a means of laying up food for winter.

HARDING TELLS HECKLER HE HAS NO LEAGUE PLAN

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28.—A merchant marine policy insuring accessibility to all the markets of the world, linked with a protective-tariff system to foster production at home, were promised by Senator Harding last night in a speech at the Baltimore armory, filled to its capacity of 26,000.

Early in his address last night Senator Harding had his first experience of the campaign with heckling, when a man arose in the gallery and asked whether he had "scrapped" the League of Nations. His reply was an unexpected challenge to debate the league with his interrogator, and the crowd expressed its approval in another prolonged demonstration.

At the conclusion of his prepared address Senator Harding replied more fully to the heckler's inquiry. "I might have answered him more extensively," he said. "The one great failure to make the most of America's leadership in the world was due to the fact that one man attempted to speak not only for America, but for the rest of the world as well. I shouldn't do that."

"I'm perfectly frank to say to you that I am without a single program, constructive in character, about an association of nations. When I'm elected president the first thing I'll do is to try to find a plan for an association of nations behind which all America will stand."

Greeted by Cheering Crowds

The nominee, accompanied by Mrs. Harding, arrived in Baltimore late in the afternoon and was greeted by a crowd of several thousand, who charged about his automobile in an effort to shake his hand. He was cheered by other thousands as he rode to his hotel, and later he spent an hour shaking hands at a public reception.

Previously cheering crowds had greeted him at various cities where his special train on its way east and during the day he made short speeches from the rear platform of his car. In his evening speech last night he warned against "a flood of imports from debtor countries," which might undermine American production by stimulating a competition American industry could not meet without tariff protection.

"We are not prepared to wipe from our books Europe's debt to us," he said, "but it would be incomparably better for our credits to remain uncollected and our balance of trade to be in our favor than to take the form of an undermining flood of imports that would cripple American industry, degrade American labor and weaken our whole economic fabric."

"Caution, Tariff Revision"

"From such an invasion we have a right to be saved. Our merchant marine will do much to avert it. Supplemented, now and whenever occasion requires, by a cautious revision of our tariff, the new shipping development will become a potent element in American economic growth."

Democratic negligence of domestic problems, he asserted, had left industry, commerce, labor and finance to the vagaries of drift and had its way out of war conditions as best it could. He referred to the republican proposal made in the senate in September, 1918, to create a joint congressional commission on reconstruction, and said:

"Encountering favorable reception in congress from members of both parties, the proposal met prompt quietus in the presidential chair. The discovery of any form of congressional advice or suggestion as to after-war policies. The result was that the signing of the armistice ushered in a veritable condition of 'save who can' in our economic life."

Proper fore-hand measures, he said, might have facilitated the return of service men to their places in the nation's productive machine; reduced the menace of the housing shortage; eased the process of returning from price control to stable, free markets, and established sounder principles of post-war financing.

Prussia Grover Cleveland

He declared that the nation had sacrificed its opportunity on the commercial seas early in its history, and had neglected its navy "until that great democrat, Grover Cleveland, gave us an awakening in his reverence for the Monroe doctrine which a present-day democrat does not understand."

"The day and hour have arrived," he said, "for operation and maintenance of a great American merchant navy. We have the initial legislation and need now only effective administration backed by American determination to hold our rightful place as a maritime nation."

Charges that the republican platform is reactionary, he said, proceeded from "that recklessness which is the excuse for loose thinking."

It is true that in political affairs we would "react" from an era of executive usurpation to the orderly form of constitutional government; that the industrial relations we would "react" from an internationalist's obsession to intimate concern in our domestic problems and our home tasks, that in social matters we would "react" from a muddling of the public mind to an honest avowal of facts and causes. But in all that makes for economic stability, for industrial justice, for social improvement, our faces are toward the morning.

ONE DAY OFF IN EIGHT

Lowell Post of American Legion Approves One Day Off in Eight for Lowell Policemen

One day off in eight for the members of the Lowell police force was given approval at a meeting of the local post of the American Legion held last night. The secretary was instructed to bring the action of the post to the attention of the mayor and municipal council. The meeting at which the matter was acted upon was presided over by Commander Luther Faulkner. Dr. C. B. Livingston acted as temporary secretary in the absence of Adjutant McCreedy.

The motion to favor the one day off in eight measure was offered by J. O'Donoghue. One of the members objected to its passing on the ground that the state convention of the legion had failed to take action regarding the Boston police strike, and that, therefore, the Boston organization should not meddle in the matter. George F. Toye expressed the opinion that the measure would result in the adding of 15 new men to the force and that there would come from the ranks of former service men. He said that in the course of the next 20 or 25 years, the police force would come to be made up largely of legion members. Commandant O'Donoghue asserted that the Boston police strike should serve as a warning to the people of Lowell and that it would not have taken place if the men "had been treated white." M. H. Harrington thought that as the legion members enjoy a day and a half off every week, the police should have one day off in eight.

THE POPE AND K. OF C. PILGRIMS

ROME, Italy.—Precedents were shattered and history was made August 29, at the Vatican. It was the occasion of the visit of the American Knights of Columbus. For the first time in history, the Vatican was reserved for the Americans the entire day. Pope Benedict XV posed for the movie and the American photographers, also for the first time in history. When Vatican officials objected to the pope being photographed, he said: "Let the Americans have what they want." (This photograph shows the pope with the K. of C. pilgrims.)

The meeting also considered a proposition to have the municipal government furnish funds for the maintenance of the legion headquarters. John J. Walsh called attention to an act of the legislature which he stated, would permit the city to appropriate $2500 for the purpose. The matter was referred to the house committee.

A report was read from the employment committee showing that 16 men were wanted for work by the Lowell Bleachery, Middlesex laundry, Northern Waste company on Tanner street, and on the state highway in high street, in North Billerica. A list of contributors for relief work was presented by the welfare committee and a report was made on needy cases that have been given attention.

The athletic committee reported that James Gleason is organizing a football eleven and that it is intended to put a polo team in the field.

Robert A. Givlin, chairman of the carnival committee, reported that the 1921 was in his hands as the proceeds of the recent carnival, and he asked that a relief committee be appointed to take over the management of such a committee. The following were named as members of such a committee: William O'Sullivan, treasurer; Dr. C. B. Livingston, Joseph Cullen, Robert Holmes, M. H. Harrington and Daniel Gray. Comrades Givlin and John J. Walsh were accorded a vote of thanks for their work in connection with the carnival.

Red Pills and Female Weakness

When a woman complains of persistent pains and discomforts, one is safe in saying that she is troubled with a malady peculiar to her sex, and that she suffers from that disease, or agglomeration of diseases, which is generally called Female Weakness.

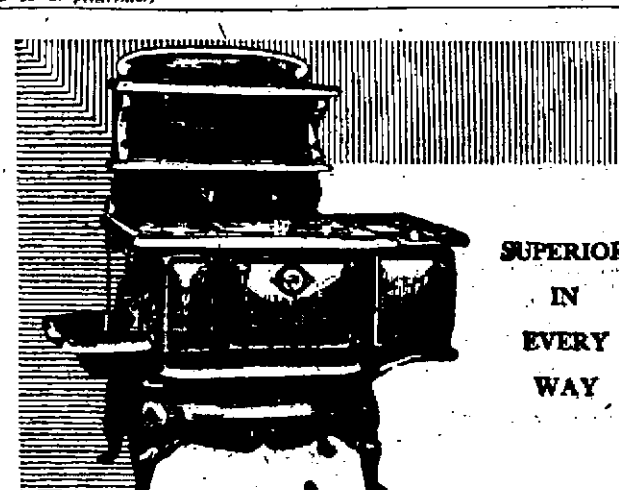

This disease is more frequently met in married women and women at the change of life, but still it also attacks young girls who have to work for their living. Female Weakness may be caused by various reasons, such as exposure to cold, lack of proper care, hard work, lack of nutrition, etc., etc., but the main cause, and one which never fails to bring that disease on as a result, is Anemia.

Anemia will thin the blood, and lower the strength of its victim, and as soon as a woman becomes anemic, the various symptoms which are usually known as female weakness will make their appearance. These symptoms are pains in the stomach, kidneys, often headaches, and always a tired feeling, and seldom good digestion, always bearing-down pains, irregular and painful periods.

Walking, even the fact of remaining standing for a certain time, and the least exertion, will increase the symptoms. If these symptoms are let alone, and if nothing is done by the patient, they will rapidly increase, and are apt to bring on more serious trouble.

The best treatment for Anemia, and consequently for female weakness, which as a rule accompanies Anemia, are Red Pills for Pale and Weak Women, and all women ought to start taking them at the first symptoms of weakness, and not wait until their trouble becomes chronic, their health broken, and their constitution debilitated by nervous symptoms, stomach trouble, and irregularities of all kinds.

RED PILLS are sold in boxes of 50 pills, 50 cents a box, six boxes $2.50. If they are not at your merchant's, they will be sent to you by mail on receipt of price. Franco-American Chemical Company, Limited, 218 Milk Street, Boston, Mass.

Million Dollar Vegetable Crop
Produced Where Two Years Ago the Fish Swam

BY PAT FRAYNE
N.E.A. Correspondent
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 28.—Two years ago it was a lake.

Today it is California's largest farm of reclaimed land, approximately 60,000 acres, with a $1,000,000 vegetable crop being harvested.

This farm is that of the Sutter Basin company, in the Sutter Basin district of Northern California, on land that was wrested from the Sacramento river overflow, through the construction of the Sutter By-pass.

For 22 miles it stretches north from Knight's Landing. Within its borders are 200 miles of canals, 15 miles of railroads, 64 miles of levees and 100 miles of company built highways.

Presto—Change!

And two years ago it was a lake for six months of the year and could be traversed only by motor boat.

Protected by levees, it is irrigated by six 12-inch pumps from the Tisdale
By-pass. Three pumps are being operated at present and are pouring 100,000 gallons of water into the 200-mile system of irrigation canals.

Last year for the first time the land had been operated for the entire twelve months. Grain and barley were extensively grown. This year, besides the mammoth vegetable crop, 22,000 acres of barley were harvested, giving as high as 40 sacks an acre. In five company warehouses scattered about the ranch 600,000 sacks of grain were stored.

Only White Labor

Of the present 400 men working for the company, not one is Oriental. "We can get plenty of 'Americans' to work for us if we give them decent living conditions," says Joe Gresham, office manager of the company.

The lowest wage paid laborers on the ranch is $3.50 a day and board.

This year 400 acres of cantaloupes are ready for picking, the crop being valued at $25,000.

Asparagus, onions, celery, potatoes, beans, and rice are being harvested
now. There are 600 acres in potatoes and 400 acres in onions.

Some day—and within a few years, says Sutter Basin officials—25,000 people will live in the Sutter Basin district where so short a time ago the fishes swam.

a man confronting death for the sake of an ideal were certain to evoke."

"The fatal blunder of Mr. Bonar Law and his colleagues lies in supposing that in the face of an appeal of this character masses of men will be moved by reason rather than by feeling. Their logic is not statesmanship, but the kind of political pedantry in which the Prussians excelled, and which helped so much towards their downfall. The only thing that can justify the government is ex post facto argument. If the death of the lord mayor of Cork is followed immediately by a weakening of resistance to the government in Ireland, they will be able to point in triumph to the success of their inflexible resolution. What troubles the minds of most of their British critics is that the opposite result is one which may reasonably be expected.

"As a more matter of verbal criticism I think Mr. Law should not say that to shoot your rebels as soon as you catch them is 'according to the universal practice of civilized nations.'
Governments would be the correct word rather than nations, granting the universal practice is as described.
Governments have always considered themselves justified in killing those who rebel against their authority, but the governed, who constitute the nation, have never had much say in the matter. The practice is favored by uncivilized as much as by civilized governments, and the latter have simply inherited it from the former.

"In point of fact civilized nations are now generally averse to killing mere rebels and to treating offences against the government as crimes against private citizens. Even Roger Casement and Edith Cavell would not have been executed in normal times.
Mr. Bonar Law makes it a virtue on the part of the government that, notwithstanding the custom of civilized nations, they refrained from killing Mr. MacSwiney, although they will not interfere with his killing himself. He seems to suggest in this that he and his colleagues are in advance of the national civilization. But this is not so."

MORE CATHOLICS SLAIN IN BELFAST, IRE.

(From the New York World)

DUBLIN, Sept. 28.—There has been a heavy loss of life in Ireland in the last twenty-four hours, and Belfast again is the worst storm centre. At Trim, County Meath, the Sinn Fein attacked the police barracks this morning and the police surrendered.

All arms were seized and the building destroyed. Constable Bragan was seriously wounded. At Broadford, County Clare, one constable was shot dead and four seriously wounded. In Belfast the rioting was resumed on an extensive scale, followed by many 'casualties'. The police killed and injured last night were all Catholics, sustaining the Catholic allegation of an Orange plot against police officers supposed to be in sympathy with the Sinn Fein.

After the orgy of organized murders before last midnight, rioting broke out early this morning. The military with armored cars dispersed the mobs.
The military now occupying the streets in anticipation of a resumption of trouble tonight. Hopes to end the pogrom against the Catholics are now abandoned. The charge is made that the new trouble is a deliberate plot to justify the continuance of the expulsion policy in view of the return to work tomorrow of the shipyard Catholics.

The trouble started at half-past 11 o'clock, when the police simultaneously attacked different parts of the town, including the nationalist district, where Constable Leonard was shot dead and others wounded. At 2 o'clock in the morning John Gaynor, officially described as a well known Sinn Feiner, was shot dead at his own door by a band of men, and a few minutes later
John McFadden and Edward Treddon, also described as Sinn Feiners, were murdered at their homes.

The general rioting which followed was suppressed by the military, and armored cars assisted the police. There is great excitement and further trouble is regarded as inevitable.

The result of the secret military inquiry into the death of John Lynch, Sinn Fein judge and councillor of Limerick, the death shot was fired by a member of the Crown forces in the execution of his duty. An exoner-ating statement is expected, but the Sinn Fein charges murder against the secret service agents in pursuance of their policy.

ARREST SINN
FEIN COUNTESS

DUBLIN, Sept. 28.—Countess Georgiana Markievicz, Sinn Fein member of parliament for St. Patrick's division of Dublin, was arrested late last night in a suburb of Dublin. The authorities had been seeking her for a long time, owing to her activities in the Sinn Fein movement.

The countess was being driven in an unlighted motor car when it was called upon to halt. The driver of the car, however, increased its speed, but further along a body of police succeeded in stopping it. With the countess were a journalist and Sean Mac-Bride, son of Maed Conne MacBride, the "Irish Joan of Arc" and widow of the executed Sinn Fein leader Young MacBride was also placed under arrest.

Countess Markievicz was passing under the name of Mrs. MacDonald.
She was taken to Bridewell prison in Dublin.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Burton

It was a lovely fall day, the kind of a day you want to be out under the sky and do exactly as you please. The kind of a day that mothers decide to let the mending and the jelly-making and the house-cleaning take care of themselves, and put on their best hats and go visiting. The kind of a day the breeze brought the most teasing smells to tantalize noses.

EVERYBODY HAD FALL FEVER, BUT SCAMPER SQUIRREL HAD IT WORST OF ALL

father's slam shut the drawers in their office desks and decide to let business and books and dollars take care of themselves. Then they put on their oldest hats and go out hunting, or fishing, or going, or whatever it is that fathers do.

But that's because they are grown-ups and may do as they please. If they were little 'uns it would be different. Because little 'uns may not do as they please, particularly if it's a school day!

And this was a school day in Meadow Grove school!

The sun came sprinkling down through the oak leaves like filtered gold, the blue sky peeped at them through every chink and cranny, and to say nothing of Flop Field Mouse, got their history every way but right, thinking of the yellow corn hanging rich and tempting in Farmer Smith's sweet-patch.

Harry Hedgehog and Muff Mole thought of fat juicy earthworms to be had for another month only, until Jack Squirrel took a notion to freeze the ground, and Cutey Cottontail's mouth was watering for some late cabbage.

Everybody had fall fever, but Scamper Squirrel had it worst of all. School! Humph! Just when nuts and acorns were getting ripe!

and John M. O'Donoghue, called upon the mayor in regard to the matter.

If the council accepted the act, the mayor said, he would put the system in operation on Oct. 1.

The mayor also read a communication from the Lowell Rotary club, favoring the one day off in eight, project.

Frank R. Bailey appeared and said that he believed the matter should be left to the people and that he thought the police were no more entitled to the day off than other departments.

"Let them have the day off without pay," he said.

Mayor Thompson asked Mr. Bailey what his occupation was.

"Laborer," he replied.

"For whom?" asked the mayor.

"I'm not doing anything now," Mr. Bailey replied.

Commissioner Murphy said that he favored the act because Lowell was about the only city in the state of its size which has not given its police one day in eight.

The mayor said that he also favored the mayor to represent the city at the annual convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways association to be held beginning Oct. 5 at Atlantic City. He has already been appointed by Gov. Coolidge to represent the state.

Hearings were held on the following petitions and as there was no remonstrance they were referred to Commissioner Salmon: E. S. Kimball, gasoline, 194 Middle; M. S. Fendel, garage, 256 Thorndike; Mrs. Clement La Croix, gasoline, 88 Branch; Arthur T. Safford, gasoline, 266 Andover; Athens J. Couture, gasoline, 88 Branch.

Petitions of the Lowell Electric Light corporation for a pole location in Marion street and New England Telephone and Telegraph Co., one pole in Madison street were referred for hearings Oct. 13.

The petition of Laura M. Anderson for a curbstone at the junction of Chelmsford and Upham streets was referred to Commissioner Murphy.

A petition from the Tidewater Oil Sales corporation for permission to store lubricant oil and another petition from Nafep Haycock for a garage at 352 Broadway were referred for hearings Oct. 13.

Dickerman & McQuaid's petition for permission to sell, rent and lease firearms was referred for investigation to the mayor and Commissioner Marchand.

Commissioner Murphy's reports on the petition of James S. Turner for a concrete sidewalk in Stevens street and that of John J. Ingalls for a sidewalk at Jewett and West Sixth streets at an expense of not more than $150. The work is to be done before December 1.

The mayor asked for authority to install three sterilizers in the new isolation hospital and he was empowered to have the work done.

The council also voted to instruct the mayor to represent the city at the annual convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways association to be held beginning Oct. 5 at Atlantic City. He has already been appointed by Gov. Coolidge to represent the state.

The man who thinks he can't shave with a safety razor

The man who excuses his use of an old-fashioned razor on the ground that he has a tender skin and a wiry beard, often tells this to a safety razor user who has a much more difficult face to shave.

ONE of the most surprising reversals of opinion ever known in the history of shaving has suddenly come about.

In the past four months—since the introduction of the new Gillette razor, the BIG FELLOW—more men have given up the old-fashioned way of shaving for the Gillette habit than in any similar period of time heretofore.

Many of them, men who had always looked upon the safety feature of the Gillette as its only advantage and one that they did not require of a razor.

There was something about the Big Fellow, the Gillette with the longer handle and heavier head, that appealed to them the instant they saw its size and felt its weight and balance.

And the men who used to think they couldn't shave with a safety razor are making the Gillette Big Fellow their particular razor—and the fastest selling razor that has ever been placed on the market order were passed it would not affect the tax rate but rather would be paid by the abutters on the streets called and sprinkled. The order was adopted unanimously.

Following the passage of this order Mr. Murphy introduced another to borrow the principal sum of $20,000 and to appropriate the same for macadam paving. In connection with the order the commissioner said that macadam work last year continued until Nov. 22 and he would like to continue as long as possible this year. In 1916 the macadam appropriation, he said, was $30,000; in 1918, $41,000; in 1917, $70,000; in 1918, when the government restricted road building, $25,000; in 1919, $10,000 and this year, $10,000. In addition to the 1920 appropriation, there remained from last year $2695.

Among the streets which have been macadamized this year, he said, are Parkview avenue, Pentucket street, Thorndike street, Hall street, Nichols street, Ward street and Dummer street. Top dressing has been applied to Gosham, Chelmsford, Smith, Powell, Common, Decatur and West Sixth streets. If money is available, the commissioner plans to macadamize Riverside st., Varnum avenue and Adams street.

Mayor Thompson said that he favored appropriating more money for the work as he thought it should be done, but he didn't see how the commissioner would be able to spend $20,000 in two months.

Mr. Murphy explained that since Sept. 1 he has had many more requests for employment than before that date and that if the money were appropriated, he would be able to put a larger force of men to work than at present employed.

The roll was called and the order adopted unanimously.

FUR AND CLOTH

Velour and Fur Are Combined in Chic Coat

By CORA MOORE

New York's Fashion Authority. NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—It would be difficult to find a more interesting feature of fashion than the clever way in which fur and cloth are to be combined in one garment for the coming cold-weather seasons. This coat in which Fall Kane has posed is an excellent example of what is being done along this line and, incidentally, it suggests an admirable way to make over, for this originally was a half-length cape. The remodeler draped it to a straight-line coat of velour, blousing it a bit and adding the fringe, which is a combination of chenille and silk threads. The cape is lined separately and it is not fastened up the front with the coat but allows the free play of the arms through the cloth sleeves of the coat. A soft draped collar puts the finishing touch to this unusual and very effective garment.

BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT WIRE DESPATCHES

WALTHAM, Sept. 27.—Employees of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway company, today voted to accept an increase of five cents an hour in settlement of the wage controversy with officials of the road.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Reports from London, printed in the Times that Frank A. Vanderbilt and other American business men are negotiating with representatives of the Soviet government regarding the opening of trade relations with Russia were not widely credited here today.

DUBLIN, Sept. 27.—Countess Georgina Martinevich, Slav Fern member of parliament for St. Patrick's division of Dublin, whose recent whereabouts has been a mystery, arrived in Dublin today.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 27.—Beginning today, not more than one ton of hard coal will be delivered to anybody in this city and this will only be delivered to persons who have less than that amount in their bins.

MILAN, Italy, Sept. 26.—Instructions that metal workers evacuate plants occupied by them, have been given by the Metallurgic union, as a result of the referendum held throughout northern Italy, relative to acceptance of the agreement between employers and workmen, which was signed at Rome at the instance of the government. The vote was 132,000 for and 45,000 against the agreement.

MONTREAL, Sept. 27.—The price of flour today went down 50 cents a barrel. It was offered to the public at $13.50 and to bakers at $13. Sugar was reduced 1½ cents to 19½ cents per pound.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—William J. Burns, a detective who is investigating the Wall street explosion for private clients, today, expressed the belief that the crime had been inspired by adherents of the Third Internationale of Moscow.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Two score radicals held at Ellis Island for deportation to Russia will be sent to Boston until means is found to transport them. They probably will entrain tomorrow morning and will be housed on Deer Island in Boston harbor.

LYNN, Sept. 27.—A proposal for settlement of the differences between shoe manufacturers and craft unions was made by the business agents of the latter today. The manufacturers, after discussion of the plan which lasted several hours, delegated further consideration to a committee of five with authority to deal with the shoe workers' representatives.

IS BUILDING RAILROAD ALL BY HIMSELF

BY MABEL ABBOTT

N.E.A. Staff Correspondent

JETMORE, Kas., Sept. 28.—All alone on the shadeless prairie, miles from any town, a man, a team of mules and a scraper are nibbling, mouselike, at the immensity of the landscape. Behind them, across the rolling plain, runs a long scar, its cuts and fills level and true, its sides raw with fresh-turned earth near the scraper, but weed-grown as it stretches backward, until it vanishes in the prairie grass.

The man talks to himself as he works. Sometimes he laughs. He is bearded, and dark as a negro, with sunburn and dirt, and his patched overalls are almost falling from his lean body; but his mules are fat and sleek.

It is Rudolph Myers, building his railroad. For 12 years Myers has been the puzzle of this part of Kansas.

Working alone, he has constructed about three miles of railroad grade around the base of some low bluffs several miles from Jetmore, and has bought about 12 miles of right of way from nowhere to nowhere, in a general southwest direction.

Summer and winter he lives alone on the right of way, in a shack of corrugated iron rusted to a uniform brick-red. In a sort of covered pen of broken boards nearby live his mules.

Mile at a Time

Year after year he has lived and worked thus, buying another mile of right of way now and then and paying for it with checks on a bank in Kansas City. The checks are always honored.

CITY ZONING

Dr. W. J. Donald Says Zoning Would Materially Help Program of Industrial Expansion Here.

Zoning will aid Lowell materially in its program of industrial expansion, according to Dr. W. J. Donald, of the American city consultants, who is to speak tonight under the auspices of the chamber of commerce in Memorial hall. In an interview given out by Lowell, he cited Fred Mason of Niagara Falls, president of the Shredded Wheat company, as a type of the expanding manufacturer who favors the community with an orderly arrangement of Jetmore residents remember that when he appeared in the village, 12 or 13 years ago, bids were being called for on the grading of approaches to a bridge. Bids of $500 and $1000 had been made. "I'll do it for $500," offered Myers, and the city, smiling in its sleeve, gave him the contract. He finished it in 10 days, making a good profit and doing a job that still testifies to his expertness.

Becomes Hermit

From that time he became practically a hermit. As the years have gone by he seems to have lost track of time, and sometimes comes to town on a Sunday for his meager supplies, forgetting that the stores are closed. He has steadily refused to talk about himself or what he is doing.

In what is declared in Jetmore to have been an unparalleled act of communicativeness, however, he told me yesterday that he was building a railroad from Jetmore to "somewhere north of Garden City; I dunno just where."

"It's the best route for a railroad anywhere round here," he said, sitting on the handle of his scraper and looking wistfully to the southwestward. "I figured I'd have money enough to buy the right of way, and I could do all the work myself, me and the mules. I thought maybe I could sell stock and be a stockholder. I've got about all the grading done now, the rest will be level ground. But I won't have money enough to put down the ties and rails and get the trains running. And nobody seems to take any interest. They come round and ask a lot of questions, but they don't do nothing. Some railroad fellows came and looked at it once, but they never came back."

Shrewdly Chosen

The route is shrewdly chosen, residents of the county say. It would give residential, commercial and industrial districts.

"Manufacturers throughout the country are taking a keen interest in the zoning of cities," said Dr. Donald. "When they are looking for a location for a new plant, they want a definitely established industrial district where the city can co-operate with industry in providing jointly those conditions which make it possible for industry to compete, and which give one city advantages over other competitors."

Dr. Donald enumerated some of the industrial district advantages connected with city planning. These advantages, he said, included absence of nearby residences, the owners of which often seek to prevent industrial improvements; wide and heavy hauling JETMORE, Kas., Sept. 16.—Here's the mystery man of the Kansas prairies. "What's he doing out there?" Everyone who sees Rudolph Myers working alone day after day asks that question. He's building a railroad! That's about all anyone ever got from him in the way of an answer. Upper picture shows Rudolph at work with his team on the right-of-way stretching over the prairie from here to nowhere! Lower picture shows the hermit railroad builder, Rudolph Myers, who has been on his puzzling job for 12 years.

Jetmore a connection with Garden City, which it has not now, and would shorten the route of the Santa Fe by a number of miles.

Rudolph Myers' right of way deeds provide that the land shall revert to its original owners when work ceases, or "it becomes evident that there is no prospect of a railroad being completed."

Government experts, investigating rumors of extensive deposits of iron ore in northwestern Australia, have reported at least 97,000,000 tons in sight above sea-level, of exceptional quality.

present.

The conference will open at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. At 2
p. m. a sociological session will be held and at 4:30 a discussion of tuberculosis Christmas seal sales and other financial campaigns.

At 8 p. m. speakers will discuss the topic "Modern Health Crusades."

At 9:30 Thursday morning, a nursing session will be held and the conference will conclude with a medical session.

FRENCH AVIATOR WINS INTERNATIONAL RACE

ETAMPES, France, Sept. 28.—(By Associated Press)—Saul Lecoq, the famous French aviator, today won the international airplane race for the James Gordon Bennett trophy, after having been delayed several hours by adverse weather conditions, was started today.

Kirsch of France, flying a Nieuport machine, was first across the starting line and made his first hundred kilometers in 21 minutes 29 seconds.

Captain De Romanet of France made his first hundred kilometers in 22 minutes 52 1/2 seconds.

There were six entrants, three French, two American and one British. Major Rudolph Sothmann, flying a Verill-Packard biplane and Howard Rinehart, pilot of the Dayton Wright monoplane, were the American competitors.

Roland Robits, pilot of the Curtiss machine entered by S. E. J. Cox of Texas, was injured on Sunday, and his machine was smashed.

Captain De Romanet, a British flyer, did not arrive in time and was debarked. F. R. Rayburn, flying a Martinsyde, was the only British flyer to enter.

Sadi Lecoq and Kirsch, pilots of Nieuport machines, and Captain De Romanet, flying a Spad, were the French entrants.

Robits appeared early at the field, as a spectator. He had a black eye and was suffering from numerous bruises.

BOAT-HILL BOWLING LEAGUE
The opening game of the Boat Hill bowling league which has just been organized for 1920-21, will be held October 5 in Kittredge's alleys. THE DOLLAR WILL COME BACK
A two-bit piece, once paid the freight
And got a fellow through the gate;
And I recall, a long way back,
Hot peanuts cost a jilt a sack.
And how we loved the sandwich men.

A red-hot cost a nickel then.
After the game—excuse the tear—
We drank a glass of jiney beer.
Those dear old days, beyond recall,
When one round buck would do it all.—Chicago Tribune.

There is more sound truth in the above lines, than sound poetry. If John Greenleaf Whittier wrote nearer the heart of man, this Chicago poet writes nearer and next to the pocketbook. We might add that it matches up with our own previous call to know that the Dollar of Today Saved will buy more than the Dollar of Yesterday. FARMERS' FAIR AND EXHIBIT

Attractive Collection of Flowers, Fruits and Vegetables at Community Club

Mayor Thompson Starts Exhibition Ball Rolling—Fair Opened at Noon

A riot of autumn color, of flowers, fruits and vegetables, such as is seldom seen within doors, greeted visitors at the opening of the Farmers' fair and exhibit of the Middlesex North Agricultural Society in the Community Service club house, in Dutton street at noon today. All of the usual elements of a harvest-home exhibition had been assembled ready for inspection, and just outside the door of one of the entrances was a big lithograph poster showing a red-checked farmer maled with a glowing red ear of corn not far away from tempting lips.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson started the exhibition ball rolling with a short address in which he said that the display was such that it caused his mouth to water so that it was difficult for him to express his thoughts.

"I feel," continued the mayor, "that the farmers in the vicinity belong to us of the city and that we belong to you." We could not live as comfortably as we do here in Lowell if it were not for the farmers. The cry for a long time has been for a suitable public market for the city. Such a display as this is bound to bring to the minds of the people who see it the sort of an institution that we should all work together form the future. I do not know of any class in a position to do as much for the community, as the farmers, and I look for the time when they will be able to come into the city and ask, yes demand, from the municipal government the things that they want.

Immediately inside of the entrance to the club house is a big display of huge pumpkins and squashes, some of them with the initials or the names of the growers in raised letters on their surfaces. Just across the way, and occupying a large part of the Dutton street side of the room, is the floral exhibit of Morse & Beals. There are numerous baskets of beautifully shaded gladioli, palms, ferns, and a large basket of wonderfully attractive roses.

Opposite this floral exhibit is a display of monster Spaulding rose potatoes, anyone of which would serve as a meal for a small family. The potatoes were dug yesterday by John E. Foster of Lowell. The largest of them weighs a pound and seven ounces, and the net weight of six of the size aristocrats of the spud world is six pounds and seven ounces.

The display of apples proves that it is not necessary to go to the west for the finest specimens of the fruit. Not even the apple that caused trouble for Eve could have been more tempting than some of the specimens on display.

Murders and Raids in Irish Towns by Black and Tans, Cause Anxiety

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Serious anxiety over the recurrence of the "Black and Tan" reprisals in Ireland is reflected by English newspapers, which sharply call for the government to halt what is described by the London Times as "semi-official lynch law." Earlier occurrences in Ireland passed without much notice here, but recent raids, especially those on Balbriggan and Trim, and the lukewarm criticism of the "Black and Tan" police forces by Gen.

RECEPTION TO SULLIVAN

Lowell Man Who Attempted English Channel Swim Due Home Tomorrow

Henry F. Sullivan, Lowell's well known swimmer, who attempted to swim the English channel this summer and came within a few miles of his goal on several attempts, will return to Lowell tomorrow evening and will be formally received by the city government and later fed by members of the C.Y.M.L., under whose colors he swam.

Mr. Sullivan arrived in New York from England yesterday morning and is expected to reach the Middlesex station at 7.15 tomorrow evening. Here he will be met by his brother members of the C.Y.M.L. and other admirers who will parade to city hall.

At the municipal building he will be formally welcomed home by Mayor Perry D. Thompson and other members of the city government in the aldermanic chamber.

From city hall the paraders will continue to the C.Y.M.L. hall in Suffolk street, where a banquet will be held and a suitable program of speech-making and entertainment carried out in honor of the organization's distinguished member.

SHOOTS GIRL AND HER MOTHER

Man Captured After Chase Says He Intended to Kill Himself Also

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—Mrs. Corinae Cranton, 24 years of age, and Mrs. Amelia Liljequist, her mother, were shot and possibly seriously wounded today by Jacob Finkler, who, when captured after a chase by police, said he was jealous of the younger woman and had intended to kill himself also. Finkler intercepted the woman at a street corner in the West End, near the Massachusetts General Hospital, firing without warning. The victims were taken to the hospital, where it was said each had a slight chance for recovery.

Finkler was arraigned in court charged with assault with intent to kill. He waived examination and was committed to jail.

APPOINTS NEW MEMBERS

Mayor Names Three Members for Street Railway Home Rule Committee

Three new members of the street railway home rule committee were appointed today by Mayor Perry D. Thompson. Chairman John D. O'Rourke, who has been temporarily excused from his duties owing to illness, and Frank Ricard and Mrs. Edward N. Burke, who have resigned. Mr. O'Rourke's place will be taken by Joseph A. Molloy, who served in the world war as a captain and won several honors.

Mrs. Burke and Mr. Ricard will be succeeded by C. E. Hobson of the Hobson & Lawler Co. and Rev. N. W. Matthews, pastor of the Gorham Street Methodist church.

FIRES IN TWO PLANTS SEIZED BY WORKERS

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Two serious fires in manufacturing plants which had been occupied by the workers are reported in despatches to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Rome.

One was in the Oulano munitions factory in Naples. The better exists, says the message, that this fire was the work of extremists, who refused to evacuate the plants. The red flag floated over the flames, but eventually the blaze was conquered and the color was substituted.

The other fire in a Turin lace factory, caused a loss of two million lire. It occurred, the advices state, in a factory which the workers were to have evacuated on the day the blaze broke out.

Municipal Council Votes to Adopt Act Granting Policemen One Day Off In Eight

White Sox Players Indicted by Grand Jury Have Been Suspended

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The Cook county grand jury this afternoon voted true bills against the following baseball players in connection with its investigation of alleged "throwing" of world's series games last year: Eddie Cicotte, Claude Williams, "Chick" Gandil, Happy Felsch, Charles Risberg, Joe Jackson, Fred McMullin. All are members of the Chicago Americans. Buck Weaver also was indicted.

While the indictments contained but one count, "conspiracy to do an illegal act," Assistant States Attorney Replegle announced that more probably would be added.

The indicted players were suspended by the White Sox club.

Oppose Entire Plans of Big Five Packers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Objections to the entire plan suggested by the "big five" Chicago meat packers for disposition of their stockyard interests were led by the department of justice today in the District of Columbia supreme court.

To sanction the proposal of the packers to dispose of their stockyard interests to a holding company, to be formed by F. H. Prince & Co. of Boston, would mean a sanctioning of a violation of the Sherman and other anti-trust laws, Attorney General Palmer declared in a formal statement.

SAYS 3 SERIES GAMES THROWN

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—Billy Maharg, whose story revealing what he claimed to be the plan for "throwing" last year's world's series, was published here today, declined to say whether he would go to Chicago to present his evidence to the grand jury.

According to Maharg's story, the first, second and final games of the series were "thrown" to Cincinnati by eight Chicago players. He said he and Bill Burns, a business partner and former American league pitcher, were approached by Cicotte, the Chicago pitcher, who told them that a group of prominent players would be willing to "throw" the series if they were given $100,000.

Attell Acted as "Fixer" Maharg said the White Sox players were "double crossed" by Abe Attell, former featherweight boxing champion, who acted as the "fixer" and "go-between."

Legislative Act Accepted by City Council at Today's Meeting

The municipal council unanimously went on record at its meeting this morning to accept Chapter 166 of the Acts of 1920, providing for one day off in eight for members of the local police department.

Upon the acceptance of the act, Mayor Perry D. Thompson, head of the department of public safety, announced that he would put it in operation here on or about Oct. 1. Only one opponent to the measure appeared when Mayor Thompson called for opposition before the roll was called on the matter. He was Frank R. Bailey, who said that he believed that the matter should be left to the people to decide and that if the police wanted one day off in eight he would support it.

JOS. OLIVER ELECTED I. O. O. F. GRAND SIRE

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—The Sovereign Grand Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, today elected Joseph Oliver of Toronto, Ont., grand sire, without opposition. The new grand sire has been deputy grand sire for two years.

There were eight candidates to succeed him including Charles F. Emerson of New Hampshire, but none was able to poll enough votes for election on the first ballot.

John R. Goodwin of Baltimore, as grand secretary, and William G. Cox of Los Angeles, Ky., as grand treasurer, were chosen unanimously.

CHARTER COMMISSION HEARING TONIGHT

The Lowell charter commission will proceed this evening in its investigation of city departments in an effort to determine the good and bad features of the present charter and what ought to be incorporated in a new form of charter were it to be adopted. This evening the commissioners will listen to John F. Salmon, head of the department of water works and fire protection; Chief Edward F. Saunders of the fire department, Supt. Robert Gardner of the water department, Chief Clerk John W. Crawford of the water department, Commissioner George E. Marchand of the public property department and Supt. Francis A. Connor of the same department. The meeting will be called at 7.30 and, like its predecessors, will be open to the public.

RISH TOWN SACKED BY "BLACK AND TANS"

TRIM, County Meath, Ireland, Sept. 28.—Because of the burning of the police barracks here Sunday morning and the wounding of Chief Constable White, a number of armed men descended on the town Sunday night and burned buildings, attacked the police, and indulged in indiscriminate shooting. Several casualties are reported.

The reprisals are alleged to be the work of the "Black and Tan" police. The regular police are taking steps to prevent further damage. During the reprisals some 30 houses were burned and the fires were still blazing at noon yesterday.

Market House Destroyed

Among the premises destroyed were a mineral water factory, which was a principal industry, and the market house. Practically all the houses on both sides of the chief thoroughfare were set on fire. The damage is estimated at $50,000. Two small boys were shot during the night, one being seriously injured.

The police who were captured in the raid on the barracks had been warned to resign within a week.

The Black and Tan reached Trim about 3 o'clock in the morning on three lorries. They mounted machine guns in Market street, commanded petrol from a local shop and set fire to the principal hotel. They then ran through the streets firing shots and throwing bombs.

Main street was the most affected but no street was without blazing houses. The houses of noted Sinn Féin men were visited in an attempt to find the authors of the attack on and the burning of the barracks. The Sinn Féin men were not found, though their

Inflicted on Montenegrins by Serbians

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—Terrible tortures and hardships were inflicted upon the Montenegrins by the Serbian army of occupation, according to an official report of a commission of investigation, appointed by the Montenegrin foreign office after the withdrawal of the Serbian troops. Copies of the report have been sent to the European governments and one also is understood to have been submitted to the state department.

The commission charges that crimes committed in Montenegro were ordered by the Serbian authorities and precisely by high officers such as Gen. Mollath, Mollathovich, chief commander of the troops of occupation, and it gives the names and circumstances attending some of the atrocities. The report avers that the purpose was either to force those persons to declare allegiance to the Serbian king or to obtain information about their male relatives who had escaped from the Serbian authorities.

"Brutal violence and abuses are recorded," the report says. "For instance, cattle were seized, foodstuffs, money and house furnishings were taken away, houses and huts burned, crops destroyed, families of homes and their humble dwellings and then the soldiers pushed them among the flames where they perished."

"Women and children shut in the homes were submitted to the additional torture of being thrown in so that they might sting those pitiful bodies; they even had the cruelty of putting cats under the skirts of women that were then sewed around the limbs, the animals then whipped, so causing awful pain to the victims."

"Prisons were opened for children and received mothers with nursing infants; the sick were cynically ordered to leave their beds and were led to jail; aged persons, men and women, had to walk sometimes barefooted on roads for over 30 kilometers; old people, women and children were beaten mercilessly with heavy sticks or iron rods and also with wet ropes;

inmates of prisons were left without nourishment sometimes as long as 10 days; the bodies of the dead in the prisons were left among the prisoners for seven days; the prisoners were forced to put their feet on the fire and nails were thrust under their finger nails.

"Deaths were hung by the hair and plunged into water up to their mouths. Men were attached to carriages in the place of horses and then killed. The corpses of Montenegrins, monstrously murdered, were left in the middle of streets to be prey for dogs. Mothers of the rebels were thrown upon the fire; old men had their teeth pulled; women were violated."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

There's a touch of the freedom and exhilarating air of the golden west about the sketch which Len D. Hollister and Leona Stephens present as the headline at B. F. Keith's theatre this week. "Back in Beverly Hills," they call it and it is explained that Beverly Hills is a district near Hollywood, California. It is the theatre of merry dispositions and wholesome fun as were evident in the sketch as presented last evening. It should find no difficulty in attracting hundreds of people from other sections of the country.

The Stephens and Hollister team will be favorably remembered by Keith patrons for their pretty sketch of last season, "Out in California." The present vehicle isn't entirely different in general atmosphere, yet every line of it is new and sparkling.

Miss Stephens is of the exceedingly vivacious type, blonde as they make men and just bubbling over with fun. Hollister is the art of dry humor. He never puts much apparent effort into his work, still gets more laughs than a dozen ordinary hard-working funny men. The one bit of slapstick in the entire offering is a bit forced. Just a lot of bright repartee, a genial atmosphere and two exceedingly likable personalities make up the sketch and those are sufficient for its success.

If you're married you'll appreciate Bessie Rempel and "Him," evidently her husband, in the 10th degree. If you're not, you'll get a mighty vivid impression of what married life may be like in store for you. "His Day Off" is the title of their affair. The scene is set on the ocean, or a lake, or something. "He" and "she" are sitting in a boat attempting to catch fish. A most earnest fisherman is he who hates to be disturbed. Less ardent in the Walloian pursuit is she, but a devoted follower of the doctrine of free speech applied to husbands. There's the setting and imagine the rest. The idea is entirely novel to this section and it made one of the biggest hits of the bill last evening.

Sybil Vane is a plump bit of a miss whom the program terms the little Welsh prima donna. From the Covent Garden Royal Opera of London is she supposed to have come and one can readily believe it after she has sung a few notes. Not unlike Gail Currier in her manner, she sings with a strong, clear voice. She doesn't sing very often, but in the best of the grade popular numbers.

Bert Kenney is a colored comedian who delights in his impersonations with a "Mr. Nobody." His comments on married and pre-married life caused many a hodge and reflection among the members of the audience. Howard Mack and Henrietta Lane in "What's It All About," are excellent entertainers. Mack is exact, especially clever with his feet. The unusual Johnston, a two man act above the rank and file of xylophonists, while the 21 Hart Brothers are strong men of no mean ability.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

In the stage presentation at the Lowell Opera house this week, the mystery surrounding the question "Who killed Joshua Quincy?" is not solved until just before the final curtain drops. The drama is "The Criminal Alibi," from the novel by George H. Parkhurst. It carries suspense throughout the plot, the following scenes created by the telling of human life and intensified by the three hunt for an unknown murderer. In a very brief prologue which one must see to understand, a murder is committed and in the following acts the finger of suspicion is pointed at five characters, all shrouded with some possibility of guilt and under these circumstances the mystery is solved at the last moment. The doubtful atmosphere, as to the guilty person is strengthened because the playwright has built up probable motives for the crime in the case of several individuals. Besides, the activities of Milton Byron, the amateur detective, also serve to make it difficult to place the guilt. As President Wilson has said, a detective story is an easy case for the mind, but a stage presentation of a detective story is better. The solving of the mystery in a startling surprise to the audience, because in most instances, the spectators have fastened the guilt upon the wrong person. The part of amateur detective is played very well by Milton Byron, and Miss Priscilla Knowles, the housekeeper of the murdered man, presents a very pleasing and accurate characterization. Florence Hill takes the part of the murdered man's daughter, "Chuck" Brown, and so well that she receives great applause on each appearance. Professor Hill is portrayed dramatically well by Jack Bennett, and Henry Hill, the part of a carefree nephew of the murdered man, irresponsible for most of his acts. Miss Ruth Whelton, a native of this city, making her first appearance as professional, is very pleasing as "Judith Darrall." Other taking part are in keeping with the general excellence of the cast.

THE STRAND THEATRE

"The Silver Horde" is the chief attraction at the Strand theatre for the first three days of the week. It is a Rex Beach story, the action of which is set in Alaska and Wall Street and the price for which the two rival factions struggle being the salmon fisheries of the Kaviak district. Marsh, head of a powerful clan of the necessary capital and is successful. But it isn't fair to tell the whole story here. See it and enjoy it. Another high class play which is being shown this week is "The Prince of Wales," the latest comedy drama successes, a delightful play, which at one time was shown on the stage. The contrast between the stage production and the film is very interesting. The play is a simple but wholesome comedy and one that is sure to please all lovers of good plays. The scenic effects are beautiful, while the photography is excellent. See it and you will enjoy it. In addition to these two numbers, there is also a two-reel comedy of the big-laugh variety, as well as interesting and instructive views of current events. The musical numbers by the master organist are of the usual high order.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

"The Prince of Wales," an exceedingly appealing story of life in an artists' colony, is the feature attraction at the Merrimack Square theatre for the first half of the week and introduces Thomas Meighan, favorably remembered for his work in "The Miracle Man" and "Male and Female," in a most suitable role.

The picture was made from Edward Peple's well known play of the same name in which Cyril Scott appeared successfully for several years. William De Mille has transformed it into a screen comedy of more than ordinary merit.

Besides telling an entertaining story, the photoplay is crowded with well conceived scenes in the humble artist colony in the Soho section of London. The plot concerns William Pepton, a sculptor, who goes to Soho to win fame and fortune, leaving Alice, his fiancée, behind him. At the death of his father, Pepton and his artist-chums become the guardians of Claudia, her little child.

Alice, hearing ugly stories of Claudia's origin, comes to the studio in Payton's absence. Through innocent words of the child, a misunderstanding arises and Payton and Alice become estranged. From then on the plot works its way through most interesting developments and the denouement is exceptionally appealing. Mr. Meighan in the role of Payton, the artist, has a part for which he is admirably suited and which will undoubtedly augment his already existing popularity. Lila Lee, another great screen favorite, also appears in "The Prince of Wales" in a prominent role and there are several other well known screen players in the production. The picture as a whole has everything to commend it.

Other features which were well received by yesterday's audiences included Ben Turpin, the noted comedienne, in "He Looked Crooked," the international news, "Uncle Sam of Freedom Rides," a patriotic story, and Topics of the Day.

THE RIALTO

Both Wanda Hawley, the Realist star, and Tyrone Power, a legitimate actor who leaves the stage once in a while for the cinema, are winning new

laurels at the Rialto theatre in a big double bill for the first three days of the week. Wanda is playing in a little, thoroughly delightful comedy entitled "Food for Scandal," and Mr. Power is in a timely play depicting the lives of the Bolshevik elements in labor ranks and the solution of the present problem of capital and labor.

Wanda Hawley made a big hit in "Hobbes," that was her first starring vehicle, and reports from that showed that as a star, she had a dramatic talent of her own. In this dramatic she continues to dazzle thousands with her winding smile, her bewitching dimples, her sense of keenness, her particular adaptability for light comedy roles, and the general air of a cultured woman which never leaves her, even when taking the part of a chorus girl, as she is called upon to do in this. For as Sylvia, the descendant of a Spanish nobleman, she was without funds, and had to get some. She was to capture San Francisco as a choir singer, but instead San Francisco captured her and put her in the front row of the Vanities. Because she wouldn't "handle her skirts" like the other girls did, the press agent decided to feature her face and the trouble began.

The picture in which Tyrone Power appears, "The Great Shadow," is a timely affair and shows the danger of Bolshevism. Reduced to essentials, Power, as MacDonald, the labor leader, might be Samuel Compers combating the radical elements in labor's ranks, and urging as a solution, which is accepted in the picture, a month's armistice between capital and labor, which armistice will save a starving world. There is plenty of action in the piece, rather clever exposition than usual of this knotty problem, and not too much sermonizing. Power is very good as the labor leader and the remainder of the cast is entirely adequate. The Sunshine comedy, "Marry Little Lobster," is a rip-roaring laugh-causer, and the Fox News holds some startling pictures of the Wall street crowd of the even to the covered bodies lined up in the street 20 minutes after the blast. The episode of "The Third Eye" is packed with thrills, as usual.

COX PRAISES BRYAN

Would Have Backed Nebraskan for Presidency if Latter Had Been Chosen

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 28.—Governor Cox, democratic presidential candidate, last night gave out a statement that he would have supported William J. Bryan for the presidency had the former secretary of state been nominated and added that he was fostering progressive ideas gained under Mr. Bryan's leadership.

His statement was in response to an inquiry from a local newspaperman regarding the position in the campaign of Mr. Bryan, who has withheld support from Governor Cox.

"I have known Mr. Bryan politically and personally for many years," said the governor's statement. "He has been an influence for good. I supported him three times for the presidency with my newspaper, my voice and my vote and would have done so again this year had he been the candidate of the democratic party instead of myself. As a matter of fact, a young man I since have endeavored to propagate."

Disapproval of "matters" in the administration of Attorney General Palmer and Postmaster General Burleson as expressed by Governor Cox in addressing a large audience at the Auditorium, where a strenuous Nebraska campaign was closed.

He said that although he believed the two cabinet officers had performed their duties "wholeheartedly" and were conscientious men, he did not endorse matters in both of their administrations. No specific examples of his disapproval were cited.

He replied to several questions in a local newspaper, a repetition largely of past experiences of the candidate with western opposition press. In response to a question here as to whether he endorsed the aims and Burleson administration, he replied:

"I served in congress with both of these gentlemen. I know them to be high-minded, conscientious men and believe that their administrations were wholeheartedly performed. Yet, there are matters in both of their administrations which I do not endorse. Neither do I endorse the policy of Frank Hitchcock as postmaster-general. Mr. Hitchcock, you will remember, is the gentleman who ran the road-roller over Roosevelt in the convention of 1912 and organized the southern delegates in 1920 for General Wood."

"Neither do I endorse the administration of Philander C. Knox as attorney general. Mr. Knox, while an able jurist, is one of the foremost reactionists in the United States and his decisions were colored by his partisanship. This is merely a matter of difference in personal opinions and pertains to things that belong to past administrations."

The governor's speech here was the 11th in Nebraska yesterday, one of the busiest days of his western trip. In all he emphasized the League of Nations, from a moral viewpoint and also the material interests of Nebraskans. Late yesterday he spoke to a large crowd at Lincoln in the Auditorium and an overflow gathering outside. During the trip from the Wyoming line he made eight rear platform talks through the Platte valley. Here and at Lincoln he expanded on his charges that the reactionary press was biased. He declared that there was "a deliberate and corrupt purpose to keep the facts from the people" and, referring to republican contributions coming, he said, from "big business," he said there was an "attempt to buy up newspapers everywhere."

AIDS TO DIGESTION

Whatever improves bodily conditions in general aids digestion. Cheerfulness, exercise, fresh air, baths and good habits make your digestion better able to take care of any burdens you impose upon it. But the greatest aid to good digestion is good blood. Anemia, or thin blood, is a common cause of indigestion. Normal action of the stomach is impossible without healthy, well-oxygenated blood.

Dyspepsia, which does not yield to ordinary treatment, may be quickly corrected when the blood is enriched. Many people have secured relief from chronic forms of indigestion by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which make the blood rich and red, capable of carrying an increased amount of oxygen, the great supporter of human life.

Have you ever seriously considered giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial to tone up your digestion, increase your vitality and make life better worth living? If your blood is thin and your digestion weak you certainly need them. Send for the booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat." It is free and will help you decide.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 60 cents per box.—Adv.

He repeated attacks upon "the senatorial oligarchy."

Introduced to his audience here by Senator Hitchcock, who led the administration forces in the senate, he praised the senator and repeated that "every objection to the league was corrected by the Hitchcock reservations which the senatorial oligarchy rejected."

"VERITABLE MIRACLE"

Archbishop Mannix Amazed by MacSwiney

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Archbishop Mannix of Australia, who recently was refused permission by the British government to visit Ireland, called on Lord Mayor MacSwiney in Brixton prison yesterday afternoon. When the prelate emerged from the prison, accompanied by Mrs. MacSwiney, he was besieged by newspapermen, who requested an expression of opinion concerning Mr. MacSwiney.

The archbishop unbent from his recent taciturn mood long enough to say to the newspapermen: "I find him to be a veritable miracle. To me it is a miracle."

INCREASE CLASS R.R. RATES

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 28.—Class railroad rates in Indiana are increased 33 1/3 per cent. commodity rates 10 per cent. and iron and steel articles and livestock 15 per cent. by an order yesterday of the Indiana public service commission. The new rates which conform with those in Illinois, become effective Oct. 1.

WORLD'S STRONGEST MAN

Wilfrid Cabana, Champion Heavyweight Lifter, Brings Bride to Lowell on Wedding Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Cabana of Montreal, who last Saturday were married at Sherbrooke, Que., are spending their honeymoon in this city as the guest of Mr. Cabana's brothers, Napoleon and Arthur Cabana of 31 Nichols street. The couple will leave tomorrow for Manchester, N. H., where for a few days they will be the guests of Mr. Cabana's father, Mr. Michael Cabana.

Wilfrid Cabana is the champion heavy weight lifter of the world and holder of the Louis Cyr belt. For eight years he was a member of the Montreal police force, but a few years ago he entered the world of sports and received Decarie, successor to Louis Cyr, of the world's champion belt, which he is still holding. The visitor called on The Sun editorial rooms last evening and displayed the belt, which is a magnificent piece of work, bearing a fine picture of the champion and the Canadian seal, the maple leaf and beaver.

It is of 14 karat gold and is valued at about $400.

Mr. Cabana's one hand best record is 305 pounds, while his back lift record is 1300 pounds. With his back he features the lifting of an automobile containing several men and making an aggregate weight of 1025 pounds. He will leave shortly for Baltimore, where he will begin a 30 weeks' engagement on a theatrical circuit.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Parents of Pupils of the Agawam School Expected to Appear Before School Board Tonight

At the regular monthly meeting of the school committee to be held this evening it is expected that parents of pupils of the Agawam street school will register a formal protest against the closing of that building and the necessity of sending their children to the Carter street school.

The Agawam street school has been closed by order of Supt. Hugh J. Molloy owing to the small attendance there during the first week of the new school year. Children who were going there were instructed to report to the Carter street school yesterday, but few of them did so. Supt. Molloy has also ordered the closing of the New Moody street school and the transfer of pupils there to the Pawtucket school. As far as can be learned, there has been no protest against the latter action.

Supt. Molloy was empowered by the school committee to put in force readjustment measures whenever he found them necessary and the closing of the schools was in accordance with this authority.

LARGE CROWDS GREET COX ON HIS WESTERN TOUR

TROTSKY DISCUSSES SOVIET PEACE TERMS

LONDON, Sept. 28.—In a statement to the Moscow correspondent of the Manchester Guardian regarding the peace terms offered by the soviet government to the Poles at the Riga conference Leon Trotsky, the soviet war minister, declared:

"If the Poles refuse peace on these terms this will convince the most backward peasant in the darkest corner that it is impossible to obtain peace without a fight to a finish."

He declared that the belshewik military situation was not so bad by a great deal, as military circles in western Europe imagined. Asked his opinion of the chances of peace, he said he did not know what they were and was afraid not even Warsaw knew.

COX PROGRESSIVENESS APPEALS TO KANSAS

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY, N.E.A. Staff Correspondent.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 28.—Prospects are better for Cox in Kansas right now than they were for Wilson at the end of September, 1916—and Wilson that year carried Kansas by 57,000.

That is the statement you hear in Kansas when you talk national politics. It is the thing that is inspiring on democratic campaigners and the thing that is worrying republicans.

Allen, running on the republican ticket for re-election, is hurting Harding.

For he has alienated labor through his court of industrial relations and a large segment of republican farmers have turned against him. The latter are rebelling because of opposition to three state constitutional amendments Allen is championing. The sorest point is the farm tenantry amendment the people will vote on, an amendment which farmers charge is practically socialistic.

Allen Has Hard Fight

This growing animosity toward Allen is boosting democratic stock tremendously. Even republicans admit Allen has a hard fight against Jonathan M. Davis, democratic candidate for governor. Davis has great strength with the farmers, for he is a farmer himself and now lives on the farm where he was born. For six years he has been president of the Farmers' state bank at Blue Mound. It is a real farmers' bank, in which he owns only five shares and claims the distinction of being a farmer-banker rather than a banker-farmer. He has served five sessions in the legislature and two in the state senate.

Republicans in Kansas have viewed with alarm the big gains reported for Cox in northwest and western states he has campaigned in. They admit his coming visit to Kansas will be at the psychological moment when he can build solidly on the democratic missionary work already done by Farmer Davis.

Anti-Allen feeling among farmers and labor—it is overwhelming among labor—would be sufficient to put over both Cox for president and Davis for governor. Farmers are vastly in the majority among Kansas voters, and the labor vote of the state is placed at about 80,000, which would be swelled to 100,000 approximately by women in labor ranks or labor families.

Women for the League

Women are expected to take a decided democratic leaning in Kansas because of their support of the League of Nations, as in other states. Women seem to be more interested in that issue than men. Many ministers have taken up the issue with sermons favoring the Cox espousal of the League of Nations and this is counting a great deal among women.

The Non-Partisan league has a foothold in Kansas and is quietly extending its membership in spite of opposition that has been so strong, especially on the part of returned soldiers, that far-and-feather parties have been staged.

The senatorial contest in Kansas is peculiar. Senator Charles, republican, is being opposed by former Governor George H. Hodges, democrat. Both are so ill they cannot campaign. The socialist candidate, a woman, died after she was nominated. Curtis has a strong machine, but many people are talking of the strange prediction that Kansas has no re-elected United States senator for 30 years. Hodges is a good campaigner and Cox will suffer from the loss of his services.

Seven of the eight congressmen are republicans, but democrats claim they will gain three seats in the house.

Kansas spoiled its long republican record by going for Wilson twice, and for Bryan in 1896, and once in 1902, even went populist. So anything can happen in this state, where every youth is supposed to become a politician when he reaches 21.

WARNING AGAINST "FAKE" BEVERAGES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Warning against "fake" fruit beverages which have flooded the soft drink market since the advent of prohibition, was issued yesterday by the public health service. Many of the orange beverages now being sold, it is said, consist only of sweetened, carbonated water flavored with a little oil from the peel of oranges and artificially colored. The department of agriculture has ruled that provisions of the pure food act will be held to have been violated in case such drinks are sold under trade names which lead the purchasers to believe they contain the edible portion or juice of the fruit named.

Since 1913 the hourly wage of steel and iron-mill workers has increased 221 per cent.

Dizzy

If you get up in the morning feeling dizzy and weak, it usually indicates a sluggish liver, or poor digestion. Aside from its unpleasantness, this condition may become dangerous; it should be checked before your vitality becomes impaired, and you are then less able to withstand disease.

A teaspoonful of "L.F." Atwood's Medicine will stimulate the action of your digestive organs, and re-establish normal conditions. Taken regularly it will quickly restore your vitality, and you will sleep soundly and awake refreshed, and clear-headed.

POLISH ENVOY REPLIES TO SOVIET ULTIMATUM

RIGA, Sept. 27.—(By Associated Press) M. Dombaki, head of the Polish peace delegation, in a reply today to the soviet ultimatum of Friday last, proposing an armistice, which the soviet delegates said must be accepted by the Poles within 10 days, says:

MARSHAL FOCH'S MESSAGE TO LEGION

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 28.—Marshal Foch sent this message to the American Legion convention yesterday:

"Regretting my inability to find myself among the former combatants of the glorious American army, my heart is with them at the moment of the second anniversary of the fighting they went through by the side of the allies for the common cause of right and liberty.

"I again render homage to the valor and to the tenacity which they unceasingly showed on the battlefields of France, in the days of misfortune and the days of success; the magnificent enthusiasm with which they answered our call; the great part they took in the sacrifices of war. The glorious remembrance of those who fell on our soil will remain a token of the profound gratitude and the indelible union of our two countries."

"I send my cordial greeting to Cleveland, the 'steel city,' and to the great state of Ohio which has furnished to America so many illustrious statesmen, and to France so many faithful friends."

POPULATION OF MISSOURI

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Missouri has a population of 2,045,547, an increase of 110,212, or 5.3 per cent, over 1910, the census bureau announced yesterday. St. Louis, with an increase of 58,848, makes up one fifth of the total gain of the state.

FLEET OF 286 WOODEN SHIPS FOR SALE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—A fleet of 286 wooden steamers totalling 384,725 deadweight tons, was offered for sale yesterday by the shipping board. The sale will be private and bids will be received until October 2, and then opened. This is the third time wooden vessels have been offered for sale by competitive bidding, but the other two attempts to dispose of part of this war-time fleet were unsuccessful. Most of the board's wooden fleet is now laid up in the James river near Newport News, Va.

MCALL'S STATEMENT

Former Governor Sees Effort to Center Money Control
in Hands of Few

BOSTON, Sept. 27.—Former Governor Samuel W. McCall, whose retirement as chairman of the board of directors of the Old South Trust company has been demanded by the bank commissioner, last night issued a formal statement upon the subject.

Mr. McCall criticizes Commissioner Allen's ethics, or lack of ethics, in not consulting him in reference to retiring from his salaried position, but reserves the heaviest of his ammunition for the "real engineer," a man, name unmentioned, who, the ex-governor implies, deals a double blow at the ex-governor personally and at the smaller banks in time of stress, the object of which, he infers, is to concentrate the control of the money of Boston in the hands of a few men.

McCall's statement is as follows:

"If the bank commissioner has ever asked that my connection with the Old South Trust company be terminated, that request has never been made of me. It was only at the urgent solicitation of friends of the bank that I decided to enter its service. I was first urged to accept the presidency, but that I declined to do. Every penny of salary that has been paid me has been much more than earned and I feel sure the bank has derived benefit from my service. Before I entered the bank I went carefully over the commissioner's statement showing an unimpaired capital and $25,000 surplus. I relied upon that.

"The gravamen of the crime, it seems, is that I was to receive a salary.

"One does not care to discuss his private affairs in public, but I had as attractive offers surely in other fields. I do not pretend to be an accomplished shaver of notes. It is not to my taste, but I may fairly well say that I am not

Mr. Frank S. Crosby, who is a contractor and builder, and resides at 1 Park street, Lynn, Mass., has made a wonderful discovery. His many friends will rejoice at hearing the good news. He is a gentleman of very few words, but his plenty of force in what he says. The other day while talking to a Vitalitas representative, he had this to say:

"As my friends know, for the past five years I have suffered with rheumatism and general debility, trying first one remedy and then another to find something that would cure or help me, but in no case did I find the right remedy until I started the wonderful Vitalitas treatment.

"I am now a changed man. It has taken away all signs of my old ailments and I feel better all over. I eat anything and sleep as I did when I was younger and I am glad I can do as good a day's work as any man. Tells Weak, Nervous People What to Eat to Grow Vigorous

Foods Do Not Supply Enough
Phosphate—A Vitally Necessary
Element

Bistro-Phosphate a Common
Organic Phosphate is What
Nerve Sick Tired Out Thin
People Need

If nervous people would eat more old-fashioned oatmeal, graham bread, dried beans and peas, the yolks of many eggs and even the despised circle peanut, they would be helped wonderfully.

Rye bread is fine also and so are lentils and unpolished rice.

This is because these particular foods are rich in phosphorus, and, as most people know, this is a vital element of not only the nerve cells, but of every other cell in the body.

There isn't enough organic phosphate in modern prepared foods to do over 40% of the men and women of America very much good.

That is why so many people of today are nervous, weak, run-down, have no ambition and in many cases are simply "sick and bone."

and one that every druggist dispenses is known as Bistro-Phosphate. It comes in tablet form all ready for use.

A few grains taken with meals supply just the organic phosphate that most foods lack, and it taken regularly, say ten grains with each meal, ought to have a wonderfully uplifting effect in a few weeks on people who are weak, become easily fatigued, or are growing old and discouraged before their time.

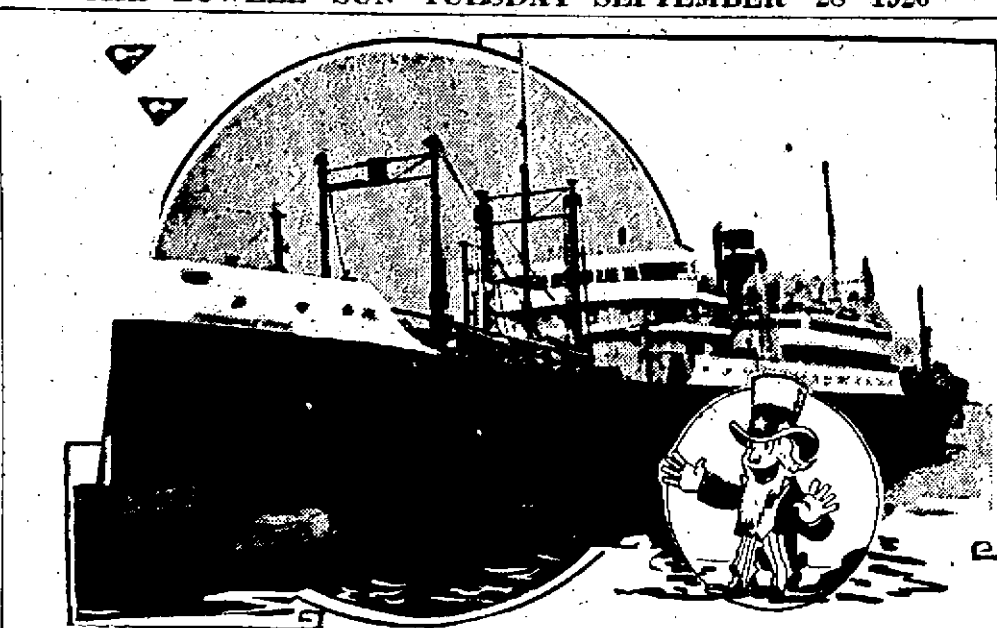

Speaking of people who are easily fatigued, who lack ambition, nerve force and are oftentimes thin, weak and sadly lacking in firm, healthy flesh, Joseph O. Harrigan, formerly visiting specialist Northeastern Dispensary, New York, says: "Patients who were apparently physical wrecks, who foolishly thought they needed only a blood tonic to enrich the blood, have come for treatment trembling and shaking, and in many cases the administering of Bistro-Phosphate has produced seemingly magical results."

Physicians and hospitals have for some time recognized its value, especially in nervous conditions. So much so that Dr. Frederick Kolbe, author of medical text books and editor-in-chief of "The Physician," "Who's Who," is led to make this statement:

"Bistro-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor and used by every hospital to increase strength and nerve force and to enrich the blood."

Any man or woman who desires to become more vigorous and energetic; to build up nerve force and endurance; to hit out undeveloped hollows and renew old-time ambition can procure this simple remedy at A. W. Dows or any drug store.

People who desire more will power, a keen, alert mind and sturdy body, are using Bistro-Phosphate all over America today with splendid results.—Adv.

UNCLE SAM BUILDS FIRST PASSENGER SHIP

CAMDEN, N. J.—Uncle Sam's first home-made passenger ship, the Panhandle State, which has been completed here, will be put into commission by the United States Mail Steamship Co., on the New York to London run in the near future. The Panhandle State is said to be the last word in comfort and luxury.

without some elements of fitness. I have the egotism to state that I know as much of the principles of finance and banking as some gentlemen in Boston who are drawing five or ten times more than I was receiving. I may say that I twice served as receiver of a trust company and each time paid the depositors in full, something that at least has not been fashionable. If indeed it was in accord with sound banking, in neither case did the supreme court, which appointed me to declare that I should work for nothing as the commissioner evidently decides.

"In the widespread anxiety during the past two months in financial circles, and almost from the day of my becoming connected with the bank, there has been no time when I would not most willingly have retired, if I could have done so without my motive being misconstrued to the detriment of the bank.

"I should have welcomed a hint from the commissioner that my services were not needed, but he did not ask me my views or say anything to me about the matter. It was wholly unnecessary and without justification for him to become a party to this public parade, which can do the bank no good and which the contrivance of the situation were obviously aiming at me.

"But I am not concerned with the commissioner, but with the real engineer. What a moment this is for a blow! In this time of great public excitement and financial unrest, such a blow might spread further havoc among the smaller banks and help concentrate the control of the money of Boston in the hands of a few men, so that no one could do business without their consent, and more and more, the men in high office would become their puppets; and at the same time it would serve the purpose of a crew as corrupt in business as it is in politics and expose to the bias of unpopularity one whom it was their purpose to destroy.

Senator New is a member of the foreign relations committee of the senate.

A. O. H. MEETING HERE

A. O. H. County Meeting to be Held in This City in December—Meeting of Division 8 Last Evening

The next county meeting of the A. O. H. will be held in this city in December as a result of an invitation made by local President Michael J. Monahan at the county board meeting held in Woburn last Sunday. This was announced at the regular meeting of Division 8, A. O. H., held in Elberian hall, Middle street, last evening. The assembly last night acted upon a large number of membership applications. A report of proceedings at the Woburn meeting was read by the several delegates and Daniel F. Kelley, of Lowell, secretary of the county meeting, and report of the work throughout the county during the last three months. The county delegates appointed Representative Barrett of Lowell as a member of the committee on appeals and grievances. An interesting review of the organization from its establishment was read by County President Daniel J. Murphy and an account of the building fund committee was read by Daniel J. Cosgrove.

An Open Letter To Pile Sufferers

Says Had Every Kind of Pile Known—Suffered Torture—Three Doses of Bistro-Phosphate Cured

Mrs. T. G. Greenough of 3 Trion st., Lynn, Mass., writes: "I suffered with piles, not only one kind but every kind known, bleeding, protruding, internal and external. God only knows what I suffered. Tried all kinds of salves and ointments but not one did me any good. Could lie down with difficulty and could not sit even on a rubber cushion. Read about Bistro in our local paper and had my husband get a bottle the next day from a Boston druggist.

"Now you believe I had only taken 3 doses when I was walking around and feeling pretty good. I had made up my mind I could not live in the condition I was in for another week unless I got relief. You certainly have a God-send in Bistro. I cannot praise it too highly.

Bangor Woman Had to Give

—Tanlac Restores Her

"Oh, how I wish I had got hold of Tanlac when my troubles first started, more than a year and a half ago, for then I could have continued my business," said Mrs. M. Busch, the expert scalp specialist, with papiers at 78 Columbia St., Bangor, Me., recently.

With the exception of the period of ill health referred to above, Mrs. Busch has practiced her profession in Bangor for sixteen years, and her many friends and patrons will be glad to learn that she has recovered her health and is again carrying on her business.

"At the time I began taking Tanlac," she explained, "I had been flat on my back in bed for five months. For a long time previous my stomach had been in such a disordered condition I couldn't eat anything but a little gruel and broth or something of that kind.

"As a consequence of this timid anti-American course, he is now being pressed for more sacrifices and surrenders of American interests, Japan holds him so willing to give away American interests that she is determined to get the pound of flesh while the getting is good.

"She demands now that he settle the California land question in her favor and guarantee her all rights and privileges of citizenship on the Pacific coast; and she demands this final sacrifice with vague threats of 'serious' complications if the sacrifice is not made.

"This is the danger that a supine and timid, democratic policy has brought us to—the danger of an open conflict. That is the kind of 'peace' that a democrat in the White House guarantees us with his international and un-American policies."

PLAN TO PROMOTE BIG BUILDING CAMPAIGN

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The National Industrial Congress of Building and Construction, formed here yesterday, today had its steering committee working to promote a building campaign throughout the country and materially decrease the existing shortage of homes.

The avowed purpose of the congress is to bring together every element concerned in building and get them all working in harmony.

Among organizations represented at the forming of the congress were the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor, the Associated General Contractors of America, the National Building Trades Employers, the American Institute of Architects, the Engineering Council and the material interests.

E. M. Craig, secretary of the Building Construction Employers' Association of Chicago, declared that action should be begun at once, since building material was now cheaper than it had been for a year.

I suffered terribly from throbbing headaches and a disagreeable tightness in the back of my head and neck.

"I was very nervous and went through night after night without sleeping. My appetite was poor and a head ache, I had to give up my business, and while it looked like everything in the world was done for me, I kept getting worse until finally I had to take my bed.

"Well, it's the truth, I began to feel better when the time I had taken three doses of Tanlac. So I continued taking it, and two weeks ago I went downtown, the first time I had been on the street since last Thanksgiving day.

"I have taken four bottles now, and am back at my business, meeting my customers and feeling good all the time. My appetite is so good I can hardly get enough to eat, my nerves are all right, and I sleep fine every night. My friends are all the time complimenting me on my improvement and asking me what I am taking. It is always a great pleasure to me to tell them. I am glad to say that the wonderful change in what has made the Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Greens Drug Store, Merrimack Square, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

slowing down, builders can get the pick of the workers," he said.

Two other similar meetings were held here yesterday at the instigation of the Chicago real estate board and at them lumber and building supply leaders promised reductions of 10 per cent. "If everyone would get on the wagon."

SUCCESS OF A MEDICINE

All things succeed which fill a real need; that a doctor is kept busy day and night proves his ability and skill. That E. B. Rinkham's "Vegetable Compound" is sold in enormous quantities in almost every city, town and hamlet in America and in foreign countries as well, proves its merit, and women are found everywhere who tell of health restored by its use.—Adv.

1000 Eggs

New System of Poultry Keeping—Get Dollars a Week—Eggs—Poultry

TELLS HOW

"The great trouble with the poultry business has always been that the life of a hen was too short," says Henry Traford, International Poultry Expert and Breeder, for nearly 15 years Editor of Poultry Success.

The average pullet lays 150 eggs. If she kept the second year, she may lay 100 more. Then she goes to market. Yet it has been scientifically established that the every pullet is born or hatched with over one thousand minute eggs germs in her system—and will lay them on a highly profitable basis over a period of four to six years' time, if given proper care.

How to work to get 1000 eggs from every hen; how to get pullets laying early; how to make the old hens lay like pullets; how to keep up heavy egg production all through cold winter months when eggs are highest; triple egg production; make blacker hen yolks; $5 profit from every hen in six winter months. These and many other money making poultry secrets are contained in Mr. Traford's "1000 EGG HEN" system of poultry raising, a copy of which will be sent absolutely free to any reader of this paper who keeps six hens or more. Eggs should go to a dollar or more a dozen this winter. This means big profit to the poultry keeper who gets the eggs. Mr. Traford tells how. If you keep chickens and wish to get the most out of them, cut out this ad and send it with your name and address to: Henry Traford, Suite 222 M. Tyne Bldg., Birmingham, N. Y. and a free copy of "THE 1000 EGG HEN" will be sent by return mail.—Ad.

College education that was formerly given only within the great institutions of learning is now brought to the doors of those who aspire to greater knowledge.

Men advanced in years read the courses offered to their boys almost gratis and wonder what a change has come over the world since the time when they walked seven miles to school daily and perhaps paid for instruction when they arrived.

This is distinctively an age of education and there is no excuse for any young man remaining ignorant or failing to acquire a liberal education.

The only question is whether the student is willing to work. If so, the way is open and the path is clear.

The first and most essential point is to fix upon a goal, an aim or purpose to be followed with dogged tenacity until success is achieved.

First then, is necessary the vision which enables a young man to see conditions around him and what is coming in the natural order of things. Second, judgment to pass upon those conditions and draw accurate conclusions.

The third essential element is the courage to do what we know or believe to be the proper thing at a given time.

These principles will lead to concentration of effort upon a single aim or purpose and without this concentration no great success is possible. As a rule, it takes a man a lifetime to make a success of any one line of business. If that be the fact, will it not be futile for any man to divide his efforts among many objects? Better one thing done well than a great many half done or spoiled.

In setting out to accomplish any end, it is important to take the most direct course. It is very disappointing to find after years of effort that you are on the wrong road. Thus foresight is a necessary element. If a man sets out on a voyage in an unseaworthy ship, he may expect to be shipwrecked. If he sails in a leaky boat, he must realize that ultimately he will sink. These may seem to be risks that no person gifted with ordinary common-sense would assume. On the contrary, every day brings examples of cases in which men set out on more reckless ventures than any of those cited. Their courage is good, but their judgment bad. It is useless for a man to hammer his head against a stone wall in trying to accomplish what the man of good judgment can see is impractical.

By using their capabilities to better advantage, most men can accomplish more than they do, without any additional education. This is where the laws of success come in and that call for concentration, perseverance, sound judgment as to methods, ambition, tact, enthusiasm and will power. The man who drifts will never accomplish anything. Other great obstacles to success are the lack of resolution, decision, enterprise or initiative.

But other things being equal, the man who has most wisely prepared for opportunity is he who will accomplish most. This preparation usually consists in education that may be along the lines of a general school course or may specialize on certain subjects in order to attain excellence. This is a great aid to specialization.

Few men can master a great many distinct arts and, therefore, it has been found that better results are attained by the professional man who devotes all his talents to one particular branch. It is better to master one branch of business or one art than to follow many and excel in none.

In the various courses now offered through our evening schools, elementary and high, the Textile school, the College Extension courses, and now the Knights of Columbus school, there is variety enough to suit everybody. The K. of C. courses are free to all ex-service men regardless of creed or race. The Knights had a portion of their war camp activity fund left over when the expeditionary forces were recalled from France and this money is now being spent in this way for the benefit of the service men in helping them to improve their condition in life. There is no intention to oppose or duplicate other courses offered but simply to provide special facilities for the service men.

With all the educational opportunities now available, the young man who needs such help and is not taking advantage of them, is untrue to himself, to his family and his country. He is a slacker in the cause of human progress to which each individual should contribute his or her share.

CHARTER DEFECTS

A few of the most palpable defects of our present charter may be stated as follows and from their being wholly self-evident no proof need be given:

The number of members of the municipal council is too small—so small that not over one per cent. of the citizens ever know for whom they are voting.

After election each member is vested with too much power because he has the dual function of legislative and executive authority. These governmental functions should not be both vested in the same body.

The charter provides no ready and effective check on bad men who may

With the salary made nominal, professional politicians could not afford to spend their entire time working for election to the municipal council. The ordinary business man who is absolutely barred under present conditions would then have a chance.

THE AUDITORIUM

In his speech at the laying of the corner stone of the Memorial Auditorium, Congressman Rogers voiced one of the aspects in which the new building, in addition to honoring our heroes, will supply a very urgent public need, when he said:

"For nearly a generation this great city has been without a forum, a meeting place for all. We have all felt and deplored the lack. It is fitting that in doing honor to the veterans of our wars, we should join an accomplishment which will promote the education and well-being of the whole body of our citizenship. The laying of this corner stone marks a notable day in the history of our beloved city."

The question of a public hall had been agitated for years. It had even been referred to the people and emphatically favored on a referendum vote; but nothing was done towards providing a municipal hall until the movement for the Auditorium was started. When completed, this building will not only serve that and many other purposes, but it will be one of which the city may well be proud, one that will bring here conventions of national bodies and afford ample accommodation for the largest that is likely to assemble here in our day.

The semi-centennial of the Massachusetts Agricultural college will be made the occasion for a series of meetings and conventions on October 14, 15 and 16. The college is doing excellent work in the conservation of agriculture, forest conservation and country planning. The sixteenth annual convention of the American Civic association will be held in connection with the celebration. It will be an event of unusual importance owing to the number of distinguished speakers who will discuss subjects of interest chiefly to farmers and people who reside in rural districts.

One man instantly killed, another probably fatally injured, as a result of the careless driving of a car by a drunken automobilist Sunday. And with only a charge of manslaughter pending against the guilty party, some people are likely to conclude there is a good prospect for an addition to the long list of cases in which the punishment has failed to fit the crime.

There will be no limit to the full measure of sympathy that will go out to the people of France in the hour when they have lost the services of one of their most useful statesmen, M. Deschanel—eight months ago elected president of the republic—who has at last broken down under the weight of official duties and injuries resulting from his recent accident.

It cost James Hartness $38,260 to obtain the republican nomination for the governorship of Vermont, which has about a third as much population as Massachusetts. At the head of the G. O. P. procession still goes the banner inscribed, "Great is our confidence in the might of the slush fund."

"Next" is called in the competition for the honor of being known as the last man to catch a salmon in the Merrimack. Someone ought to be able to step forward and attempt to pull down Agent W. A. Mitchell's record of 24 years. But who shall certify to the truth of fish years?

William G. McAdoo says: "There are some American politicians—most of them in the republican party—who are just as bad as the Kaiser and his wife." Some people will think that Mr. McAdoo might use a little moderation in referring even to Wilhelm.

The chamber of commerce has hung a net of the blue net over the city walls and doubtless anyone who feels but after bumping the highway bumps will be permitted to freely shake his fists and make use of expressive language in front of it.

It may be worth remembering that Oct. 4 is the 38th anniversary of the birth of Rutherford B. Hayes, but there is not likely to be much difference of opinion regarding the desirability of forgetting his name completely as possible about the circumstances under which he landed in the presidential chair.

One way of improving the city government might be to provide for the lower of a group of speakers to deliver some of the almost unnumbered speeches that are expected from the mayor who then might devote more time to the consideration of the city's business.

One of the surest ways of helping to sound the knell of prosperity is to go about predicting that the present days of busy mills, good wages and satisfied business men cannot last forever. Just exactly why can't they?

The statement comes from Connecticut that the democrats of the state are likely to score a triumph for Cox because they are strongly organized. Here is a hint for some democrats nearer home than the Nutmeg state.

It may be true, as asserted by Mr. Hoover, that the government is profiting at the expense of depositors in postal savings banks, but we would rather not believe that our Uncle Samuel is quite so mean.

No poet is ever likely to sing of America, "I'll fare the land to hastening like a prey," so long as she goes on, as she has for the last 25 years, establishing a new high school every day.

The coal-rationing plan seems to resolve into a recognition of the principle that to him that hath shall be given as well as to him that hath not.

The cut of 10 to 20 per cent. in the price of mail order business is a big help to the farmers, but then every thing does seem to be coming the farmers' way this year.

Wouldn't Do at All

The sportsman strode into a poultryer's shop with the air of a man who meant business, said:

"Can you sell me a nice, plump pheasant?"

"I'm sorry, I have not a pheasant left, sir," replied the shopman, "but here are some fine sausages that I can highly recommend. I'm sure your wife will be delighted with them."

"Sausages be blowed!" yelled the sportsman; "how can I tell my wife I shot sausages?"—Los Angeles Times.

Blond Eskimos

Captain Joe Bernard has come back to Nome, Alaska, after spending four years in the Arctic hunting for blond Eskimos. "Only brunets," he said, "half frozen captives he found. It will be hard convincing the hardy captain that Stefansson didn't bleach his Eskimos before bringing them to civilization. Future blond hunters in the Arctic will do well to take with them a liberal supply of peroxide. But, anyway, why run up to the north pole looking for blonds when they may be found nearer home?"

MAN ABOUT TOWN

A number of people have asked why there wasn't a greater turnout in the parade held Saturday afternoon in connection with the laying of the corner stone of the memorial auditorium in East Merrimack street. It was, indeed, one of the shortest processions ever held in Lowell, but even at that, was much longer than the officials in charge of the exercises had originally expected or planned. It was the desire of the auditorium commission merely to have small delegations from each of the local military and patriotic organizations appear in the parade. As it was, the local post of the American Legion sent 50 men, the G. A. R. 37, Red Cross 30, and so on. The organizations responded generously to the request to send delegates. When the auditorium is completed and formal dedicatory exercises are held, a more elaborate parade will undoubtedly be held. But Saturday's met all expectations of those who were in charge of arrangements.

A correspondent has sent me specimens of wild flowers gathered from the autumn fields. One of these is of the delicate and beautiful lady's slipper. "This is an orchid found in great abundance in September and October," says the letter. "The braided appearance of the spikes would account for the popular name: the plant's English name was formerly 'ladies' traces' from a fancied resemblance between its clusters and the laces which played an important part in the feminines toilet. It is also called by some of the country people 'wild hyacinth.'"

The other specimen is of Queen Anne's lace, of which the letter says: "Its common name is the title of Queen Anne's lace. When first introduced into Great Britain it was not known, altho' the supposition is that it was brought over by the Dutch during the reign of Elizabeth." Continuing, the letter says: "These are flowers which close at the approach of storm, thus protecting their pollen and nectar from the dissolving rain. Linnaeus invented a famous 'flower clock' which indicated the hours of the day by the closing of different flowers. This habit of closing has been called the 'sleep flowers.' 'Who can tell the hidden power of these flowers? Forth the earlier cool days of fall and the falling of the first few ripened nuts they begin to scamper about with an added business in their active movements. With all their interesting capers and habits, the way in which the squirrels hide their food has always been most interesting and puzzling to me. If you watch one of them quietly you will very likely see him pick up some article that is esteemed for its food value and scamper carelessly about, suddenly come to a stop, dig for a few moments with his tiny fore feet, and then drop his store into the hole, pull the leaves and dirt over it and whisk away. As far as human senses can detect there is nothing whatever to indicate the place where the food, that may be sorely needed later, has been hidden. Yet, with some sort of an unerring instinct for his guide, the animal returns and recovers a meal when the time comes that he needs it. The squirrels sometime play strange tricks in connection with their gathering of supplies for winter food. Lowell man has a summer home near the Massachusetts sea coast. In the neighborhood grow stunted pitch pines such as are familiar all along the New England shore of the ocean. The only other tree in the vicinity, usually, is a sort of scrub oak that bears a very bitter acorn. The wife of the Lowell man went to the sea coast home for a few days last winter. When her husband had arrived a little later, she chafed him for his thoughtfulness in having had a lot of helpful acorns come accumulated for use in kindling fires. This was something of a puzzle, until an investigation made it certain that squirrels had filled the barrel as a means of laying up food for winter."

HARDING TELLS HECKLER HE HAS NO LEAGUE PLAN

BALTIMORE, Sept. 23.—A merchant marine policy insuring accessibility to all the markets of the world, linked with a protective-tariff system to foster production at home, were proposed by Senator Harding last night in a speech at the Baltimore armory, filled to its capacity of 20,000.

Early in his address last night Senator Harding had his first experience of the campaign with heckling, when a man arose in the gallery and asked whether he had "scrapped" the League of Nations. His reply was an unapologetic challenge to debate the issue with his interrogator, and the crowd expressed its approval in another prolonged demonstration.

At the conclusion of his prepared address Senator Harding replied more fully to the heckler's inquiry.

"I might have answered him more extensively," he said. "The one great failure to make the most of America's leadership in the world was due to the fact that one man attempted to speak not only for America, but for the remainder of the world as well. I shouldn't do that."

Greeted by Cheering Crowds

The nominee, accompanied by Mrs. Harding, arrived in Baltimore late in the afternoon and was greeted by a crowd of several thousand, who charged about his automobile in an effort to shake his hand. He was cheered by other thousands as he rode to his hotel, and later he spent an hour shaking hands at a public reception.

Previously cheering crowds had greeted him at various cities where his special paused on its way east and during the day he made short speeches from the rear platform of his car.

In his armory speech last night he warned against "a flood of imports from debtor countries" which might undermine American production by stimulating a competition American industry could not meet without tariff protection.

"We are not prepared to wipe from our books Europe's debt to us," he said, "but it would be incomparably better for our credits to remain uncollected and our balances to be waived than for liquidation to take the form of a undermining flood of imports that would cripple American industry, degrade American labor and weaken our whole economic fabric."

"Cautious Tariff Revision"

"From such an invasion we have a right to demand a new merchant marine will do much to avert it. Supplemented, now and whenever occasion requires, by a cautious revision of our tariff, the new shipping development will become a potent element in American economic growth."

Democratic negligence of domestic problems, he asserted, had left industry, commerce, labor and finance to "struggle and drift, and find its way out of war conditions as best it could. He referred to the republican proposal made in the senate in September, 1914, to create a joint congressional commission on reconstruction, and said:

"Enumerating favorable reception in congress from members of both parties, the proposal met prompt quiescence in the president's blunt disfavor of any form of congressional advice or suggestion as to after-war policies. The result was that the signing of the armistice ushered in a veritable condition of 'save who can' in our economic life."

Proper fore-handed measures, he said, might have facilitated the return of service men to their places in the nation's productive machine; relieved the menace of the housing shortage; eased the process of returning from price control to stable, free markets, and established sounder principles of post-war financing.

Francis Grover Cleveland

He declared that the nation had sacrificed its opportunity on the commercial seas early in its history, and had neglected its navy "until that great democrat, Grover Cleveland, gave us an awakening in his reverence for the Monroe doctrine which a present-day democrat does not understand."

"The day and hour have arrived," he said, "for operation and maintenance of a great American merchant marine. We have the initial legislation and need now only effective administration to hold our rightful place as a maritime nation."

"It is true that in political affairs we would react from an era of executive constitutional government, that the industrial relations we would react from an internationalist's obsession to intimate concern in our domestic problems and our home tasks, that in social matters we would react from a muddling of the public mind to an honest avowal of facts and causes. But in all industrial justice, for social improvement, our faces are toward the morrow."

ONE DAY OFF IN EIGHT

One day off in eight for the members of the Lowell police force was given approval at a meeting of the Lowell Post of the American Legion last night, and the secretary was instructed to bring the action of the post to the attention of the mayor and municipal council. The meeting at which the matter was acted upon was presided over by Commander Luther Faulkner. Dr. C. B. Livingston acted as temporary secretary in the absence of Adjutant McCreedy. The motion to favor the one day off in eight measure was offered by James O'Donoghue. One of the members objected to its passing on the ground that the state convention of the legion had failed to take action regarding the Boston police strike, and that, therefore, the local organization should not meddle in the matter. George P. Toye expressed the opinion that the measure would result in the adding of 15 new men to the force and that these would come from the ranks of former service men. He said that in the course of the next 10 or 25 years, the police force would come to be made up largely of legion members. Comrade O'Donoghue asserted that the Boston police strike should serve as a warning to the people of Lowell and that it would not have taken place if the men "had been treated white." M. H. Harrington thought that as the legion members stay a day and a half off every week, the police should have one day off in eight.

THE POPE AND K. OF C. PILGRIMS

ROME, Italy.—Precedents were shattered and history was made August 23, at the Vatican. It was the occasion of the visit of the American Knights of Columbus. For the first time in history, the Vatican was reserved for the Americans the entire day. Pope Benedict XV posed for the movies and the American photographers, also for the first time in history. When Vatican officials objected to the pope being photographed, he said: "Let the Americans have what they want." (This photograph shows the pope with the K. of C. pilgrims.)

The meeting also considered a proposition to have the municipal government furnish funds for the maintenance of the legion headquarters. John J. Walsh called attention to an act of the legislature which, he stated, would permit the city to appropriate $2500 for the purpose. The matter was referred to the house committee.

A report was read from the employment committee showing that legion men were wanted for work by the Lowell Bleachery, Middlesex laundry, Northern Waste company on Tanner street, and on the state highway in High street, in North Billerica.

A list of contributors for relief work was presented by the welfare committee and a report was made on needy cases that have been given attention.

The athletic committee reported that James Gleason is organizing a football eleven and that it is intended to put a polo team in the field. Robert A. Gleason, chairman of the carnival committee, reported that $1469.91 was in his hands as the proceeds of the recent carnival, and he asked that a relief committee be appointed to take over the money. The following were named as members of such a committee: William Holmes, M. H. Harrington and Daniel Greig. Comrades Gleason and John J. Walsh were accorded a vote of thanks for their work in connection with the carnival.

Red Pills and Female Weakness

When a woman complains of persistent pains and discomforts, one is safe in saying that she is troubled with a malady peculiar to her sex, and that she suffers from that disease, or agglomeration of diseases, which is generally called Female Weakness.

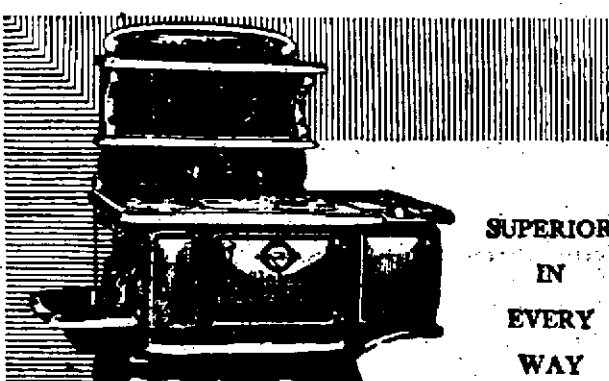

This disease is more frequently met in married women and women at the change of life, but still it also attacks young girls who have to work for their living. Female Weakness may be caused by various reasons, such as exposure to cold, lack of proper care, hard work, lack of nutrition, etc., etc., but the main cause, and one which never fails to bring that disease on as a result, is Anaemia.

Anaemia will thin the blood, and lower the strength of its victim, and as soon as a woman becomes anaemic, the various symptoms which are usually known as female weakness will make their appearance. These symptoms are pains in the stomach, kidneys, often headaches, and always a tired feeling, and seldom good digestion, always bearing-down pains, irregular and painful periods.

Walking, even the fact of remaining standing for a certain time, and the least exertion, will increase the symptoms. If these symptoms are let alone, and if nothing is done by the patient, they will rapidly increase, and are apt to bring on more serious trouble.

The best treatment for Anaemia, and consequently for female weakness, which as a rule accompanies Anaemia, are Red Pills for Pale and Weak Women, and all women ought to start taking them at the first symptoms of weakness, and not wait until their trouble becomes chronic, their health broken, and their constitution debilitated by nervous symptoms, stomach trouble, and irregularities of all kinds.

RED PILLS are sold in boxes of 50 pills, 50 cents a box, six boxes $2.50. If they are not at your merchant's, they will be sent to you by mail on receipt of price. Franco-American Chemical Company, Limited, 212 Milk Street, Boston, Mass.

DELANEY OPPOSES SCHOOL CLOSING

When queried relative to the closing of the Agawam school today, Chairman Delaney of the school board said: "I am not quite familiar with the facts in connection with the closing of the school except that it is in pursuance of a policy of centralization adopted by Supt. Molloy and under which the Moody street, Billings street and Agawam street primaries together with the kindergarten connected have been closed."

"For my part I do not favor the policy and I do not know that a majority of the board favors it as the board has not authorized the closing of the schools."

"In the case of the Agawam school, I feel that the distance to Carter street to which the classes are transferred, is too far for young children to walk in the cold weather. The only saving," said Mr. Delaney, "is the heating of the primary buildings and the janitor service."

"Of course, it might cost less to double up on the schools throughout the city, but I don't believe it would serve the cause of education or bring better results. The changes made will require the children in some districts to walk so far that in cold weather, their parents may prefer to keep them at home."

MacSWINEY MORE REFRESHED TODAY

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, passed a better night last night, and was a little more refreshed this morning, said a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination league. He was very weak and exhausted, however, and in some pain, the bulletin declared. "This was the 47th day of his hunger strike."

In his report to the home office, the physician at Brixton prison said: "He is slightly thinner, but otherwise there is no marked change from yesterday. The prisoner is unquestionably growing weaker daily."

At mid-day the league issued the following bulletin: "There is very little change in the lord mayor's condition. He is suffering great pain in the right arm. To his sister Mary, who visited him, he said 'I feel quite used up.'"

ARMED MEN ATTACK IRISH WORKERS

BELFAST, Sept. 28.—There was a recurrence last night of the rioting and shooting which have been in progress here at intervals since the week-end. The outbreak occurred in the Old Lodge road district, where shipyard workers were attacked by armed men. Seven persons were wounded by revolver firing. The military dispersed the rioters by bayonet charges.

There were 17 arrests for violations of the curfew law.

$41,318,975 PAYROLL OF N. Y. POLICE FORCE

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Next year's police protection will cost New York $41,318,975—about ten million dollars more than 1920—according to the budget of Police Commissioner Enright, submitted to Mayor Fiske today. A general increase in policemen's salaries is included in the recommendations.

13-YEAR-OLD GENIUS AT HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 28.—Harvard college gained a genius at studies and a potential batsman for its baseball nine when Frederick Santos of Wapwallopen, Pa., 13 years of age, registered as a member of the freshman class today. The boy has mastered five languages, works problems in calculus with facility and has advanced far beyond his years in other branches of academic study. But his keenest delight, he told his classmates, is to get out and play ball, and those who knew him at Central high school, Philadelphia, said young Santos was a budding Babe Ruth, whose heavy hitting had won more than one game for his team.

CITY ZONING Dr. W. J. Donald Says Zoning Would Materially Help Program of Industrial Expansion Here

Zoning will aid Lowell materially in its program of industrial expansion, according to Dr. W. J. Donald, of the American city consultants, who is to speak tonight under the auspices of the chamber of commerce in Memorial hall. In an interview given out by Dr. Donald shortly after his arrival in Lowell, he cited Fred Mason of Niagara Falls, president of the Shredded Wheat company, as a type of the expanding manufacturer who favors the community with an orderly arrangement of residential, commercial and industrial districts.

POLES TAKE 1300 AND SMASH ON

WARSAW, Sept. 28.—(By Associated Press)—Polish cavalry operating in the rear of retreating Bolshevik forces in the region of Czodno has reached a point north of Lida, says an official statement issued today. During yesterday's fighting, the Poles captured 3000 prisoners, including a Bolshevik commissar, and also took eight cannon. Lithuanian artillery has shelled Polish positions in the Suwalki sector, the statement declares.

North of the Pripiet the battle is continuing in favor of the Poles. The Russians are retreating along the entire front, but are offering stubborn resistance. The Poles are approaching the Schvra river and farther north have crossed the Niemen.

The new cylindrical state prison at Statesville, Ill., is so planned as to afford ninety minutes of sunlight for each cell on every bright day.

MORE CATHOLICS SLAIN IN BELFAST, IRE.

(From the New York World) DUBLIN, Sept. 28.—There has been a heavy loss of life in Ireland in the last twenty-four hours, and Belfast again is the worst storm centre. At Trim, County Meath, the Sinn Fein attacked the police barracks this morning and the police surrendered. All arms were seized and the building destroyed. Constable Brogan was seriously wounded. At Broadford, County Clare, one constable was shot dead and four seriously wounded. In Belfast the rioting was resumed on an extensive scale, followed by many casualties. Constable Leonard was shot and injured last night are all Catholics, sustaining the Catholic allegation of an Orange plot against police officers supposed to be in sympathy with the Sinn Fein.

After the orgy of organized murders before last midnight, rioting broke out early this morning. The military with armored cars dispersed the mobs. The military is now occupying the streets in anticipation of a resumption of trouble tonight. Hopes to end the pogrom against the Catholics are now abandoned. The charge is made that the new trouble is a deliberate plot to justify the continuance of the expulsion policy in view of the return to work tomorrow of the shipyard Catholics.

The trouble started at half-past 11 o'clock, when the police simultaneously attacked different parts of the town, including the nationalist district, where Constable Leonard was shot and others wounded. At 2 o'clock in the morning John Gaynor, officially described as a well known Sinn Fein, was shot dead at his own door by a band of men, and a few minutes later John McFadden and Edward Treddon, also described as Sinn Feiners, were murdered at their homes.

The general rioting which followed was suppressed by the military, and armored cars assisted the police. There is great excitement and further trouble is regarded as inevitable.

The result of the secret military inquiry into the death of John Lynch, Sinn Fein judge and councillor of Limerick, says the death shot was fired by a member of the Crown forces in the execution of his duty. An exonerating statement is expected, but the Sinn Fein charges murder against the secret service agents in pursuance of their policy.

FEIN COUNTESS

DUBLIN, Sept. 28.—Countess Georgiana Markievicz, Sinn Fein member of parliament for St. Patrick's division of Dublin, was arrested late last night in a suburb of Dublin. The authorities had been seeking her for a long time, owing to her activities in the Sinn Fein movement.

The countess was being driven in an unlighted motor car when it was called upon to halt. The driver of the car, however, increased its speed, but further along a body of police succeeded in stopping it. With the countess were a journalist and Sean MacBride, son of Maud Gonne MacBride, the "Irish Joan of Arc," and widow of the executed Sinn Fein leader Young MacBride was also placed under arrest.

Countess Markievicz was passing under the name of Mrs. MacDonald. She was taken to Bridewell prison in Dublin.

COX TO MAKE 16 SPEECHES TODAY

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Sept. 28.—A day's campaigning calling for 16 speeches, equalling his record mark, was begun today by Governor Cox. A brief before breakfast talk at the station here, headed one of the hardest programs of the trip. From here a special train provided by the South Dakota committee was to take him on a tour of 14 cities in the southern and eastern parts of South Dakota.

After waiting 10 minutes for the poison to assert its deadliness, Finley realized that the druggist had peered beyond his muttered excuse that he wished cyanide to kill a dog and had supplied him with a cure for indigestion. Then he took a large dose of strychnine and wrote his last note.

Save the Surface and You Save All

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

It was a lovely fall day, the kind of a day you want to be out under the sky and do exactly as you please. The kind of a day that mothers decide to let the mending and the jelly-making and the house-cleaning take care of themselves, and put on their best hats and go visiting. The kind of a day the breeze brought the most teasing smells to tantalize noses. The little Mink and Otter boys sighed over their geographies and thought of Lily Pond and Ripple Creek—Phil Frog and Fannie Fish, too! The Woodchuck boys and Cob-Coon, fathers slam shut the drawers in their office desks and decide to let business and books and dollars take care of themselves. Then they put on their oldest hats and go out hunting, or fishing, or golfing, or whatever it is that fathers do. But that's because they are grown-up and may do as they please. If they were little 'uns it would be different. Because little 'uns may not do as they please, particularly if it's a school day!

And this was a school day in Meadow Grove school!

The sun came, sprinkling down through the oak leaves like filtered gold, the blue sky peeped at them through every chink and cranny, and

to say nothing of Flop Field Mouse, got their history every way but right, thinking of the yellow corn hanging rich and tempting in Farmer Smith's sweet-patch.

Harry Hedgehog and Muff Mole thought of fat juicy earthworms to be had for another month only, until Jack Frost took a notion to freeze the ground, and Culey Cottontail's mouth was watering for some late cabbage.

Everybody had fall fever, but Scamper Squirrel had it worst of all. School! Humph! Just when nuts and acorns were getting ripe!

He racked his brains for a plan of escape.

The council also voted this morning to give Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy of the street department $20,000 additional for macadam work to supplement an original appropriation of $3000. Mr. Murphy also received additional for oiling and sprinkling.

Meeting in Detail

Mayor Thompson called the meeting at 10:05. All members were present. A bill amounting to $3437, due to Annie L. Kerwin for land taken in connection with the proposed widening of Locke street, was approved. Bills totalling $2614.68, charged to sewer construction, were also approved.

One Day Off in Eight

The mayor brought up the matter of one day off in eight for members of the police department as provided by Chapter 166 of the Acts of 1919. The mayor said that the chamber of commerce directors had advocated the proposition through their president who appeared before the city council last week. Later a committee of directors, including William N. Goodell, Edward B. Carney, C. H. Hobson and John M. O'Donoghue, called upon the mayor in regard to the matter. If the council accepted the act, the mayor said, he would put the system in operation on Oct. 1.

The mayor also read a communication from the Lowell Rotary club, favoring the one day off in eight project.

Frank R. Bailey appeared and said that he believed the matter should be left to the people and that he thought the police were no more entitled to the day off than other departments.

Mayor Thompson asked Mr. Bailey what his occupation was. "Laborer," he replied.

"For whom?" asked the mayor.

"I'm not doing anything now," Mr. Bailey replied.

Commissioner Murphy said that he favored the act because Lowell was about the only city in the state of its size which has not given its police one day in eight.

The mayor said that he also favored the act inasmuch as it had been recommended by the chamber of commerce.

The roll was called and the act unanimously accepted. It will go into effect about Oct. 1.

Commissioner Salmon was authorized to enter into a contract with John Brady to clean up a wood lot on the Cushing farm on the upper boulevard

The man who thinks he can't shave with a safety razor

The man who excuses his use of an old-fashioned razor on the ground that he has a tender skin and a wiry beard, often tells this to a safety razor user who has a much more difficult face to shave.

ONE of the most surprising reversals of opinion ever known in the history of shaving has suddenly come about.

In the past four months—since the introduction of the new Gillette razor, the BIG FELLOW—more men have given up the old-fashioned way of shaving for the Gillette habit than in any similar period of time heretofore.

Many of them, men who had always looked upon the safety feature of the Gillette as its only

advantage and one that they did not require of a razor.

There was something about the Big Fellow, the Gillette with the longer handle and heavier head, that appealed to them the instant they saw its size and felt its weight and balance.

And the men who used to think they couldn't shave with a safety razor are making the Gillette Big Fellow their particular razor—and the fastest selling razor that has ever been placed on the market at an expense of not more than $350. The work is to be done before December 1.

The mayor asked for authority to install three sterilizers in the new isolation hospital and he was empowered to have the work done.

The council also voted to instruct the mayor to represent the city at the annual convention of the Atlantic Deep-sea Waterways Association to be held beginning Oct. 3 at Atlantic City. He has already been appointed by Gov. Coolidge to represent the state.

Hearings were held on the following petitions and as there was no remonstrance they were referred to Commissioner Salmon: E. S. Kimball, gasoline, 124 Middle; M. S. Peimel, garage, 256 Thordike; Mrs. Clement La Croix, gasoline, 56 Branch; Arthur T. Safford, gasoline, 266 Anderson; Athanas J. Couture, gasoline, 68 Branch.

Petitions of the Lowell Electric Light corporation for a pole location in Marion street and New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. one pole in Madison street were referred for hearings Oct. 12.

The petition of Laura M. Andrews for a curbstone at the junction of Chelmsford and Upham streets was referred to Commissioner Murphy.

A petition from the Tidewater Oil Sales corporation for permission to store lubricant oil and another petition from Naisip Hayek for a garage at 352 Broadway were referred for hearings Oct. 12.

Dickerman & McQuaid's petition for permission to sell, rent and lease firearms was referred for investigation to the mayor and Commissioner Marchand.

Commissioner Murphy's reports on the petition of James S. Turner for a concrete sidewalk in Stevens street and that of John J. Ingalls for a sidewalk at Jewett and West Sixth streets were ordered to remain in the city clerk's office for seven days.

The commissioner reported, on the following petitions and the accompanying orders were adopted:

George O. E. French, sewer in Shawmut and Acadia avenues, estimated cost, $3750.

Sam Rostler, sewer in Du Merle and Pine streets, $1370.

John A. Hutchinson, sewer in Beacon street, $620.

Annie J. Devine, et al., sewer in Buttrick road, $355.

Abbe Lawrence, sewer in Berkeley avenue, $300.

John E. and James Shaw, sewer in Burnaby street, $520.

Murphy Introduces Orders

Commissioner Murphy then introduced an order appropriating $3000 from the general treasury for sprinkling oil on certain streets. The commissioner explained that he was given an original appropriation of $32,000 for sprinkling this year, but owing to the fact that oil cost practically seven cents a gallon more this year than last and that higher wages had to be paid, he would need more money to carry on the work.

According to his contract with the American Car company which furnishes cars for sprinkling, any increase to railroad employees will also have to be met by the street department. Accordingly, the commissioner will have to pay increased wages to the men who operate the sprinkling cars not only from now on but also retroactively to May 1.

If the increase is not granted, the men will have the right to strike. Mr. Murphy said that that he and his clerk had gone over the matter and figured that they would need $1627.16 to carry on the work until Nov. 15. There would probably be other incidental expenses also, so he had asked for an appropriation of $3000.

Mayor Thompson explained that if the

Following the passage of this order Mr. Murphy introduced another to borrow the principal sum of $20,000 and to appropriate the same for macadam paving. In connection with the order the commissioner said that macadam work last year continued until Nov. 22 and he would like to continue as long as possible this year. In 1915 the macadam appropriation, he said, was $30,000; in 1916, $41,000; in 1917, $70,000; in 1918, when the government restricted road building, $25,000; in 1919, $40,000 and this year, $40,000. In addition to the 1920 appropriation, there remained from last year $2655.

Among the streets which have been macadamized this year, he said, are Parkview avenue, Pentucket street, Thordike street, Hall street, Nichols street, Ward street and Dummer street. Top dressing has been applied to Graham, Chelmsford, Smith, Powell, Common, Decatur and West Sixth streets. If money is available, the commissioner plans to macadamize Riverside street, Varum avenue and Adams street.

Mayor Thompson said that he favored appropriating more money for the work as he thought it should be done, but he didn't see how the commissioner would be able to spend $20,000 in two months.

Mr. Murphy explained that since Sept. 1 he has had many more requests for employment than before that date and that if the money were appropriated, he would be able to put a larger force of men to work than at present employed.

The roll was called and the order adopted unanimously.

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisifted cocoon oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls of Multisifted will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisifted cocoon oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

Be sure your druggist gives you Multisifted.—Adv.

Says 3 Series Games Thrown

between" and that they received only $10,000. He also declared that many gamblers, including Burns himself, were "double crossed and left out in the cold."

"Attell is the man the Chicago grand jury wants," Maharg's story says. "He made the bets, turned over $10,000 to Burns for the six players and double crossed them out of $10,000."

Maharg is a former boxer and is well known in local sporting circles. His story follows:

"I received a wire from Burns from New York the middle of last September, inviting me to take a hunting trip with him down on his ranch in New Mexico. We were to take Bill James, one of the White Sox pitchers, with us. James had nothing to do with subsequent events, but while we were there in the room, talking (in a New York hotel), Cicotte came in and started to talk in a low voice to Burns."

Put Proposition Up to Gamblers

"I heard enough to know that he said that a group of prominent players of the White Sox would be willing to throw the world's series if a syndicate of gamblers would give them $100,000, on the morning of the first game."

"When Cicotte left, Burns turned to me and repeated Cicotte's conversation, part of which I had heard. Burns said: 'Do you know any gamblers who would be interested in this proposition?'

"I said I would go to Philadelphia and see what I could do. Burns said he would have to go to Montreal to close an oil deal, and that he would wire me about the progress of the deal."

"I then went to Philadelphia and saw some gamblers there. They told me it was too big a proposition for them to handle, and they recommended me to Arnold Rothstein, a well known and wealthy New York gambler."

"In the meantime Burns had returned to New York and I went over again and joined him. We met Rothstein by appointment and put the proposition up to him. He declined to get into it. He said he did not think that such a frame-up could be possible."

"Eight White Sox in on Deal"

"We left Rothstein and hung around New York for a while. I returned to Philadelphia, thinking that everything was off until I received the following telegram from Bill Burns: 'Arnold R. has gone through with everything. Got eight in. Leaving for Cincinnati at 4:30.'

"I went the next day and joined Burns. He said that after I had left New York, he ran into Attell, who had gone to Rothstein and fixed things up. Burns said he had seen Cicotte and that eight members of the team were in the deal."

"Attell was in Cincinnati, quartered in a large suite in the Sinton, and had a gang of about 25 New York gamblers with him. He said they were working for Rothstein."

"I had my first suspicion on the morning of the first game when Burns and I visited Attell. We asked for the $100,000 to turn over to the White Sox players to carry out our part of the deal."

"Attell refused to turn over the $100,000, saying that they needed the money to make bets. He made a counter-proposal that $20,000 would be handed the players at the end of each losing game. Burns went to the Sox players and they seemed satisfied with the new arrangement."

"Gamblers Made Clean-Up"

"We all bet on Cincinnati the first day, and won. The next morning Burns and I went around to Attell again at his headquarters. I never saw so much money in my life. Stacks of bills were being counted on dressers and tables."

"Again Attell stalled us off. He said he wanted to keep the money to bet."

THAT THIRD PARTY

THE THIRD PARTY IS AGAINST UNIVERSAL MILITARY TRAINING

We grew suspicious and asked Abe if Rothstein were really in the deal. Then Abe flashed a fake telegram. It read: 'Abe Attell, Sinton hotel. He wired you 20 Grand and waived identification.'

Rothstein Never Involved

"The wire was signed with the initials A. R. We learned later that this was a fake telegram, and that somebody had wired to New York to have it sent. The telegram used the expression 'Grand' which is gamblers' lingo for a thousand. As a matter of fact, Rothstein was never involved. Attell was lying."

"Burns felt sore because he had no money for the White Sox and he told me he would turn over $10,000 worth of all leases to the players as security. I persuaded him not to take this step, and thereby saved him that money."

"After the second game, we again found Attell and his confederates. Attell again made excuses about needing the coin to make further wagers, but did place $10,000 on the table. He said: 'Give that to the players.' Burns asked me to take the money and I refused. He finally took it himself, and turned it over to one of the players."

"Sex Got Even by Winning Third"

"Burns told me that he saw the players were restless and wanted the would not keep up the agreement."

"The players, however, told Burns that if they lost behind Cicotte and Williams they wouldn't win for Kerr. So we went to Chicago and bet all of our person winnings of the first two days, on Cincinnati to win the third game. As a matter of fact the Sox got even with us by winning this game."

"Burns and I lost every cent we had in our clothes. The whole upshot of the matter was that Attell and his gang cleaned up a fortune and the Sox players were double crossed out of $90,000 that was coming to them."

"Cicotte Makes Deal"

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Eddie Cicotte today denied the charge of Billy Maharg of Philadelphia, that he offered to arrange with other White Sox players to "throw" the 1919 world's series for $100,000.

President Comiskey telegraphed Maharg, asking him to come to Chicago, and offering him $10,000 for substantiation for his accusations.

Abe Attell, Arnold Rothstein, Burns and others involved in Maharg's story, have been summoned to appear before the grand jury which has announced that sessions will be continued beyond the usual closing time at the end of September, in order to go fully into the charges of crookedness in the series and in other major league games.

"Big" Fred Jean and his Fall River Tigers, runners-up in last year's pennant race, will play Lowell at the Crescent rink tonight.

A telegram has been received from "Bob" Hart, announcing that he will be in the Lowell lineup tonight. It was also stated at the rink that Doherty was expected to play tonight.

Bill Blount, goal tender for Fall River, is one of the most spectacular cage guards in the league. He played for two years with the Lawrence club, when the down-river was in the league, and last season worked for Fall River.

"Iron Man" Cusick, halfback for Fall River, played in Lowell for one season, but last year was a member of Jean's outfit. He has improved greatly since working with the "big fellow," and is now regarded as a very good defense man.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—Ruth's 32nd and 33rd home run drives scored all the runs yesterday in New York's 2 to 0 victory over Philadelphia. Mays kept the locals from getting more than one hit in any inning. Both of Ruth's homers were drives over the right field fence. He hit two other liners to left and centre which were caught close to the boundaries of the playing space.

Benny Valger and Ralph Brady have been signed up to appear in a bout at Baltimore on Friday night.

Jack Blitton, the welterweight champion, and Benay Leonard, the lightweight titleholder, will clash at Cleveland on Thursday night. This bout is attracting considerable attention and ought to prove a hummer.

BROOKLYN WINS NAT. LEAGUE PENNANT

Brooklyn won the National league pennant yesterday when the Boston Braves defeated the second place New York Giants, 4 to 2, in the second game of a double-header at the Polo grounds. Brooklyn may lose its remaining games, and New York may win all its games, yet the final standing will show Brooklyn a game ahead.

Cleveland maintained its half-game lead over Chicago in the American league race, as each team won. The New York Yankees won and have a mathematical chance to tie. Cleveland's advantage is that it has six games to play while Chicago has but three and New York two. Friday night is the earliest possible time the winner may be determined. If Cleveland wins four out of six, Chicago must take all three to tie. If Cleveland splits even and Chicago takes two out of three it will be a tie, and a best-of-three-games play-off will determine which team faces Brooklyn for the world title.

If there is no tie the world series, best five out of nine, will start October 5 in Cleveland or Chicago.

of the country club, over which the boy Francis Oulmet defeated the British golf masters Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, seven years ago, in the play-off of a triple tie for the national open golf championship, was the scene of a meeting of all three today. The occasion was a 24-hole contest, best ball foursome, in which the Englishmen were opposed by Oulmet and Jesse P. Gaultford. It was the second meeting of the two pairs this season, the professionals Vardon and Ray having defeated their amateur opponents, Oulmet and Gaultford, at Belmont Springs country club early in the summer. A large crowd, restricted to club members and three guests each, was out for the play when the golfers teed off.

LEGION CONVENTION WARNS BUSINESS AND

Only Two Formidable Candidates in Field

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28.—With the withdrawal of Milton J. Foreman of the Chicago and Emmett O'Neil of Kentucky from the race for national commander of the American Legion, only two formidable candidates were in the field today.

After caucuses, it was said that the New England delegations and several southern and Rocky mountain states had endorsed F. J. Galbraith of Cincinnati.

The main was made that the southerners would throw their support to Hamilton MacNider of Mason City, Ia., carrying with them the western states. The MacNider forces claimed that they would receive the support of at least 21 states, but reports of splits bring new territory to the Galbraith ranks, were frequently heard.

The committee favored Kansas City for the next convention. It selected October 31 to November 2, as the date. One committee was prepared to recommend that the constitution be amended and that six departments be created, five in the United States and one in Europe, and that instead of five vice commanders elected at large, as at present, a vice commander be placed over each of the six departments.

A resolution favoring immediate action by the United States senate on the four-fold compensation plan received committee approval. Nearly 50 percent of the legion is strongly in favor of the resolution. The house of representatives already has acted favorably on it.

The committee on soldiers' disability and insurance considered the advisability of placing the war risk bureau, public health service and federal board for vocational training under the supervision of a separate cabinet officer.

Other matters to come before the convention were an Americanization program which should have for its purpose the assimilation of the nation's alien population; more adequate care for wounded American soldiers; grant of immediate citizenship to all who served the country; revision of civil service regulations to make it easier for former service men to obtain public employment; decision upon a definite military or non-military policy; declaration of Armistice day, Nov. 11, as a national holiday; drastic action against those who were slackers in the war; opposition to the participation of legion men as members of the organization in labor disputes; planning of drives to raise the membership and adoption of a ritual for initiation into the legion.

Today's convention program included the presentation of Gen. Marie Emile Fayolle, representative of the French government, and Admiral Sir William Lowther Grant, Great Britain's representative. Gen. Fayolle was to have reached here yesterday for the parade but his steamship was held up outside New York harbor by heavy fog.

All chance of the legion entering into politics even to the extent of endorsing this or that candidate for office, was practically eliminated at yesterday's session when the resolutions committee voted down a move to amend the constitution.

The New England delegation split on the question of Massachusetts voting against any change in the present constitution, while Connecticut's representative at the committee meeting sought to have eliminated altogether the clause which declares any candidate for or holder of any elective political office barred from any office in the legion unless he has considered the matter again this morning, before the committee reports to the convention, goes through, and it appeared unlikely, politics so far as the legion is concerned is a dead issue for at least another year, probably forever.

Massachusetts was the hit of the great parade of the legionists, which marched four miles past the greatest crowd in Cleveland's history yesterday. Nearly 200 strong, the ranks of the delegates and alternates swelled by a score of former Boston and Bay State men who left their own delegations and insisted on marching with the Massachusetts legion, were the cause of a tremendous ovation from the time they swung into Euclid avenue until they disbanded three and a half miles beyond.

HELD CHURCH SUPPER
Supper was served to two hundred young people last night in the First Congregational church on the occasion of the opening rally of the Lowell Christian Endeavor union. After the supper a business and entertainment meeting was held. The gathering was conducted similarly to the Northfield conferences under the charge of Miss Frances Graves of the Pawtucketville society. Several Haverhill delegates to Northfield were present and Harold Bedder, president of the Haverhill union, made a short address. The entertainments were conducted by Miss Helen Mansfield and reports were issued by the following: Irene Grimes, Earl Ireland, Edgar White, R. W. Williams, Frank J. Spooner, Bernice Frisbie, Carrie Heading, Alda Lincoff, Carrie Stewart, Alexander Ross, Gilbert Merrill, Mrs. Clarence Merrill, Clara Chapman, Elsie Lord, Doris Fraser, Mildred Rugg, Bessie Ranlett, Louisa Blanchard.

THE O.M.I. CADETS
Spiritual Adviser To Address Cadets at Meeting This Evening—Preparations for Field Day

An address by Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O.M.I., spiritual adviser of the cadets, and further preparations for a field day to be held during October and the organization of a football team, will comprise the business of the meeting of the O.M.I. cadets in the armory in East Merrimack street this evening. Rev. Fr. Sullivan has just returned to his parish after spending the last month on a mission at Star of the Sea chapel, Beverly, Mass., and will speak to young cadets tonight, in regard to field activities.

The idea of holding a field day in October is new and bound to arouse interest. Present plans for a field day will be held during October and the organization of a football team, will comprise the business of the meeting of the O.M.I. cadets in the armory in East Merrimack street this evening. Rev. Fr. Sullivan has just returned to his parish after spending the last month on a mission at Star of the Sea chapel, Beverly, Mass., and will speak to young cadets tonight, in regard to field activities.

After the drill and business meeting, there will be an assembly of the members of the football team who will report to Manager Gargan. The following men and all others interested in trying out for the team are requested to be present this evening: Liston, D. O'Connor, J. O'Connor, J. Neilligan, O'Brien, Colter, Murphy, McInerney, Conroy, McQuaid, F. O'Brien, E. Payton, C. Giddis, Dooley, O'Neill, Flannigan, Robinson.
